U. N. Assembly Meeting Anew

Disarmament Slated To Be Major Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly embarks today on crucial session expected to bring the thorny disarmament issue to a head.

The first session will be devoted mainly to election of a new Assembly president to succeed Thailand's Prince Wan Waihayakon and approval of Malaya's admission as the U.N.'s 82nd member.

Both the United States and Russia want disarmament high on this year's agenda.

Secretary of State Dulles is expected to focus on the issue in a 45-minute policy speech Thursday. So is Russia's foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko.

Diplomats looked to Syria to clarify its position in the Soviet orbit when the question of Russian penetration in the Middle East comes up for debate.

There was considerable speculation in U.N. corridors as to how the Communists' perennial demand for seating Red China would come up this year.

THE RUSSIANS could bring the question up at the Assembly opening, but it is believed they will wait until the Steering Committee takes up India's proposal that the issue be made a formal agenda item.

Despite Soviet efforts, Red China's bid appears headed for another flat rebuff. Britain is supporting the U. S. stand against seating the Chinese Communists in the 1957 Assembly. A U.S. spokesman said there also is strong support from other quarters.

The disarmament debate will be based mainly on a report of the London talks of the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee — Russia, the Big Three and Canada.

The talks recessed Sept. 6 with the Soviet Union adamant against the West's demand for safeguards to insure compliance with a ban on nuclear weapons.

Cop Figures Russ Roulette Odds Wrong

CLEVELAND (AP)—Patrolman Howard Rickert, 36, thought his chances were 50-50 if he played Russian roulette with three shells in a six-shot police revolver.

He died early today of a bullet wound in the head.

His partner, Patrolman George Trammel, said Rickert appeared in good humor when he entered the rollcall room at the police garage Monday night.

"Let's play Russian roulette," said Rickert.

Neither Trammel nor two ambulance men there paid much attention to the gag.

As Rickert walked back and forth with the gun in his hand, they heard him say:

"Four is too many. My chances would only be 40-60. Three are better. I've got a 50-50 chance."

Nobody was watching Rickert when they heard the shot.

The bullet went through his head and fell inside his uniform cap. He died about six hours later in Charity Hospital.

In the gun were two loaded shells and one empty cartridge. Police experts tried the gun with three shells in the cylinder.

"The first pull of the trigger unfailingly brought one of the shells into the firing chamber," said Detective Bernard J. Conley.

Ricket's actual chances were 9-100.

3 Children Burned Playing with Fire

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three children were burned seriously Monday when they poured on a garage floor in suburban Willowick. In Euclid-Glenview Hospital are David Clark, 9; Carol Aumann, 7; and Donna Nickles, 10. The accident occurred in a garage at the rear of Donna's home.

Lays is the Arkansas Democrat who helped arrange Saturday's meeting between President Eisenhower and Faubus.

He flew to Little Rock from Texas Monday, saw Faubus, and told reporters: "A solution cannot be postponed much longer. The hopes of the people of the country, which have been built up, simply cannot be frustrated."

Somebody has to give in to dissolve the impasse in Little Rock, Hays said, posing the question, "But how to give in without surrendering?"

Who will surrender? "I don't know," he replied. He added: "There is no occasion for pessimism simply because we have not tied up this package."

The contingent of National Guardsmen, who have kept Negroes from entering the 2,000 pupil Central High at Faubus' direction, had been reduced to about a dozen today. There were fewer spectators on hand as classes started without incident.

Little Rock today is one big question mark.

Will Faubus withdraw the guardsmen from the high school within the next few days and permit Negroes to enroll? Many people believe so.

The federal government was preparing about 200 subpoenas today for witnesses in its case against Faubus.

OR WILL HE sit tight until Friday, then respond to the summons to appear in U. S. District Court, and let the federal government issue an injunction ordering him to stop interfering any longer with the integration of the school? Others believe this is Faubus' strategy.

Meanwhile, a letter to the governor and new legal actions entered the high-tension story.

Woodrow Wilson Mann, mayor of Little Rock, sent the letter to Faubus Monday in the hands of a policeman.

Mann took note of the "persistent rumors" that Faubus will withdraw the Guard within the next few days. He asked 24 hours notice "in order that proper preparations might be made for the general welfare of the public."

That could mean that Little Rock police will go on duty at Central High—possibly to protect the Negroes from turn them away from its doors.

Mann has outspokenly criticized Faubus for sending the Guardsmen to the school.

Of the two court actions, one bears directly on the question of letting Negroes into Central High, and the other on four recently enacted Arkansas segregation laws.

Two weeks ago, U.S. Dist. Judge Ronald N. Davies, who issued the summons to Faubus for Friday, laid down an injunction enjoining Mrs. Clyde Thomason, recording secretary of the League of Central High Mothers, from interfering with the integration of the school.

THE LEAGUE is a segregationist organization.

Griffin Smith, attorney for Mrs. Thomason, said Monday he has mailed to the federal district clerk's office a notice that he will appeal Davies' injunction. He said he will carry it to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

At the same time, 10 Negro ministers challenged the new state segregation laws.

Requesting temporary and permanent injunctions, they argued the laws "unlawfully invade and abridge freedom of speech and religion and the right of petition."

7 NATO Nations Start Sea Trials

LONDON (AP)—Warships of seven Western allies slipped out of British ports in the predawn darkness today for huge NATO exercises to protect the Atlantic lifeline.

One by one and in pairs more than 200 fighting ships left for rendezvous points in NATO's first full-scale Atlantic maneuvers in four years.

The 58 U. S. warships were led by the giant carrier Forrestal and the Nautilus, the world's first atomic-powered submarine.

The exercise has been dubbed "Strikeback." One of its prime objects is to work out ways to keep the Atlantic highway open against submarines. The Soviet Union is known to be building up the greatest underwater fleet the world has ever known.

Community Chest Drive To Start Here Oct. 14 With Big Night Parade

Plans to start the campaign to raise $23,500 for the Fayette County Community Chest with a big parade, featuring Hopalong Cassidy on his white horse, today are beginning to take form after final approval of the general outlines were approved at a meeting of Chest directors Monday night.

The parade, which one of the board said "will be one of the biggest staged here in years," will include at least 17 floats, several bands and more than 500 uniformed youngsters.

Of these, the parade planners said they were virtually certain and then emphasized "but there will be much more."

The floats, it was explained, will be entered by the organizations which participate in the Community Chest. The purpose of the floats will be to give the people of the community a more graphic conception of what these organizations do and the results they accomplish.

WHILE MANY of the details of the parade remain to be worked out, some phases of it already have been settled and others virtually settled.

It will be held the night of Oct. 14, but the exact time is still indefinite. The line of march has not yet been mapped out, but in all probability it will go through Court St., but this has to be cleared with the state Highway Department because of traffic over the heavily traveled state routes that go over it, through the city.

Commitments have been received from three bands—the Wright-Patterson Air Force Band, the Washington C. H. High School Band and the Jeffersonville High School Band.

Rescuers Seeking Body of Miner, 50

MULLENS, W. Va. (AP)—Rescue crews continued their desperate probing into tons of rock and slate 4,000 feet inside a southern West Virginia coal mine early today in the hope that a trapped miner may still be alive.

The miner, 50-year-old Arlie Davis, was trapped with two others in the roof fall at Tierney No. 1 mine at Herndon, W. Va., Monday. The others were killed and Davis was believed dead.

The bodies of Paul D. Kratsch, 43, Princeton, and Arnold Wingo, 51, South Mullens, have been recovered.

The 115 employees of the Premier Pocahontas Co. were organized into crews to continue the round-the-clock search.

Geo. Baldrige Denied Parole For 4 More Years

No Consideration

The Ohio Parole Commission Tuesday postpones until September 1961, further parole consideration for George Baldrige, Fayette County farmer convicted of first degree manslaughter in Nov. 15, 1955, slaying of Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick here.

Baldrige began a one to 20-year prison sentence last Nov. 29 after the Court of Appeals had affirmed action of Fayette County Common Pleas Court where the former Adams County sheriff was convicted the previous March.

Patrick was slain on Nov. 15, 1955, the opening day of the hunting season, following the arrest of one of Baldrige's relatives for having two hen pheasants in his possession.

He was committed to the penitentiary on March 9, 1956, served four days and was then released when his attorneys obtained a stay of execution pending an appeal.

The commission granted paroles to 66 penitentiary inmates, including six serving manslaughter sentences, in its actions today.

Nashville Kids Protected in Integration

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—School officials told parents to return their children to six newly integrated schools today with assurance of their safety under the double protection of local lawmen and a federal court injunction.

Federal Judge William E. Miller issued the injunction Monday after a four-hour hearing at which evidence linking 10 defendants to last week's segregationist disturbances was presented.

The order forbids John Kasper and nine others or anyone acting in concert with them from interfering with the integration of Nashville's first grades. It continues in force the strong provisions of a restraining order issued last Thursday at the request of city officials.

Two of the original 12 defendants, however, were dropped from the list Monday, one for lack of evidence, one for lack of notice.

Defense lawyers strongly argued that specific terms forbidding boycott or picketing should not be included in the injunction, because this would violate rights of free speech.

Miller said these activities may be permitted under normal circumstances, but the court had a right to forbid them in the context of violence which accompanied admission of 15 Negro first-graders to five Nashville schools last Monday.

Tribal War Brewing In South African Area

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A full-scale tribal war threatened today as hundreds of Basuto tribesmen were reported gathering for an attack on a small township inhabited by Zulus. Fighting between the Zulus and Basutos broke out Sunday. Forty were killed and at least 67 injured. The fighting started when Zulus attacked a Basuto funeral procession. The Zulus contend Basutos have attacked them repeatedly.

Village Clerk Cleared In Auditor's Finding

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Auditor James Rhodes reports that Harry W. Holmes, village clerk of Lucas in Richland County, had satisfied findings for recovery of $1,018 returned against him.

Examiners returned the findings in an audit of Lucas offices covering a two and one-half year period ending May 4.

They said $165 of the total represented overpayment of salary and $710 for expense accounts paid to Holmes that were held to be illegal. The balance was for underpayments of collections for electric, water and sewer bills.

Mediators Press For Phone Accord

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite regular "no progress" reports from negotiation sessions for the past 10 days, federal mediators want to take another crack at settling the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. strike. They have another session today.

The Communications Workers union called out its 18,500 members on strike against Ohio Bell at 6 a.m. Monday, simultaneously with a walkout by 23,000 Western Electric Co. employees in 45 states.

Both sides have kept an eye on the Western Electric negotiations in New York. Even if a settlement were reached in Ohio, the CWA says it would observe picket lines set up by Western Electric installers.

In New York, a federal mediator today conferred with chief negotiators for both sides in an attempt to bring about a settlement of a strike of 23,800 telephone equipment installers in 44 states and the District of Columbia.

COMMISSIONER Walter A. Magliolo, of the mediation service, said "I will have to await developments from our talks" before he could say whether there would be a resumption of full-scale negotiations.

Fairly peaceful picketing prevailed on the first day of the strike at Ohio Bell exchanges in 45 cities. The company reported local dial service was normal, but there were delays of "not more than two minutes" on long distance calls, as supervisors manned the switchboards.

In Youngstown, the union charged that a company foreman struck a picket with his fist, and the company charged that pickets refused to let supervisors into the building.

In Springfield, a woman picket filed an assault and battery charge against the company's commercial manager, claiming he knocked her down.

In Cleveland, jostling of pickets and supervisors was reported. The company said tires were slashed on company cars near one exchange, and a window was broken and locks were jammed with toothpicks at a company garage.

The company said it sent extra crews of supervisors to 15 towns where service is still on manual operation — Ironton, Barnesville, Uhrichsville, Piqua, Upper Sandusky, Sandusky, Coshocton, Gallopis, Nelsonville, New Lexington, St. Clairsville, Hillsboro, Ripley, Tiffin and Findlay.

IN NEW YORK, the CWA's national director, Joseph E. Dunne, called the Western Electric strike 100 per cent effective and added: "It will be a long strike unless the company meets our just demands. The situation at the moment is bleak."

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. said the walkout's effect on telephone service generally was slight.

The company reported delays in placing long-distance calls during peak-load periods. It said, however, that by 3 p.m. Monday switchboards in the 14 long-distance division buildings throughout the country were getting 63 to 100 per cent coverage by supervisory workers and long-distance operators who crossed the picket lines.

Phone Service Continues To Be Normal

Normal service was being maintained in the Washington C. H. area by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. Tuesday with only two pickets on duty in front of the Washington C. H. Traffic building entrance 228 E. Court St. during the morning.

Meanwhile, the strike of Communications Workers of America slowed long distance service and installations and repairs in more than two score cities scattered throughout Ohio.

Paul Dougherty, commercial manager here, said "the situation Tuesday is about the same as it was Monday," the first day of the authorized walkout.

A few more than 65 per cent of the operators who were scheduled to report for duty Tuesday are on the job, Dougherty said. Ohio Bell employees approximately 60 persons in Washington C. H. Ten of these are classed as management and supervisory personnel not involved in the strike.

LOCAL SERVICE here is virtually unaffected by the walkout because it is provided by automatic dial equipment, Dougherty said. Installation, repair and construction workers remained on the job here.

Despite the strike, Dougherty said Monday's volume of long distance calls was normal and added that the chief operator's report showed there has been virtually no delay in getting long distance calls through, even to cities affected by the walkout.

The service was being maintained here largely by the 65 per cent of the operators who reported to their switchboards Tuesday morning with some supervisory and management personnel helping out.

Punishment Reported Ahead For Big Teamsters Union

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee was reported today to have set the stage for possible suspension or from the merged labor federation.

The committee was said to have authorized drafting of a report declaring the truck union is under corrupt influence in violation of the antiracketeering provisions of the AFL-CIO constitution.

The committee was reported to have upheld charges of racketeering, misuse of union funds and other corruption at a closed meeting here Monday.

This development was reported shortly after Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Committee investigating rackets in labor and management, announced in Washington that the committee plans to resume its investigation of James R. Hoffa, a vice president of the teamsters. The hearings are scheduled to start Sept. 24.

McClellan said Hoffa would be invited but would not be required to be present at the new hearings.

The 44-year-old Hoffa, front-running candidate for election as president of the union, asked the committee last week to leave him free from Sept. 18 to Oct. 10 to attend the union's convention starting in Miami Sept. 30.

Hoffa, a prime target of McClellan's committee, seeks election at the convention to the $50,000-a-year union presidency being relinquished by Dave Beck, another major target of the committee.

Hoffa has suffered a series of setbacks in widely separated areas. Several Teamsters groups have backed other candidates.

Monday night in Chicago, the Chicago Joint Teamster Council reaffirmed its endorsement of Hoffa for president but it released its delegates to vote as they please at the convention.

Backers of Thomas J. Haggerty, Chicago Teamsters official who is seeking the presidency, hailed the action as a victory for Haggerty.

The joint council in Chicago represents about 10 per cent of the Teamsters' national voting strength at the convention.

The Ethical Practices Committee at its meeting here discussed charges stemming from the Senate committee's probe of the Teamsters Union, the Bakery and Confectionery Workers of America and the United Textile Workers.

It is forecast that the AFL-CIO Executive Council will fix a time limit of 30, 60 or 90 days for clean-up action by the three unions. The punishment for failure to comply probably would be suspension. Complete ouster, however, must be voted on by the AFL-CIO convention. The next convention is scheduled for Dec. 5 in Atlantic City.

Quiet Follows Bloodless Coup

Policy To Continue

Sarit Pledges

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Marshal Sarit Thanarat, long one of Thailand's three strong men, seized power today in a bloodless coup. There were reports pro-Western Premier P. Pibulsonggram had fled the country.

Sarit as commander in chief of Thailand's armed forces ringed Bangkok with tanks. Military units took up positions at strategic points throughout the capital.

Sarit, a reputed foe of the anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, acted only two days before a scheduled meeting in Bangkok of SEATO military advisers.

Diplomatic sources said, however, that Sarit had promised no change in foreign policy and said all treaty obligations would be met. He said all foreign lives and property would be protected.

The army radio made repeated broadcasts calling for Pibulsonggram, once Sarit's partner in power, to give himself up. The premier vanished Monday after rejecting a demand by Sarit and 58 army supporters that he resign.

Pibulsonggram's continued absence from his office led foreign embassies to believe he had fled to Hong Kong, Manila or some other nearby country.

THE PREMIER was last seen Monday going to the palace to report to King Phumiphon Aduldet on the political crisis.

Bangkok radio broadcasts insisted the coup "was inspired by the need to give expression to the will of the people following the government handling of elections last February."

Pibulsonggram's Seri Manangasia party won a small majority over seven opposition parties and independents in close, hotly contested parliamentary elections.

Feeling ran so high among political leaders that Pibulsonggram proclaimed a state of emergency in March.

The coup brought no report of violence and there was little excitement among the people.

Singapore diplomatic sources said Sarit had proclaimed himself governor of Bangkok with the agreement of the King, long regarded as a stout supporter of Pibulsonggram.

Informants here also said the young King had asked Pibulsonggram to resign. They gave no reason.

The army radio said the third member of the old triumvirate, Gen. Phao Sriyanond, commander of the nation's 40,000-man police force, surrendered at military headquarters. Also giving himself up, broadcasts said, was Adm. Yuthasart, naval commander.

Courthouse Gets Hoax Bomb Call

COLUMBUS (AP)—About 1,000 persons were evacuated from the Franklin County Courthouse Monday afternoon after an anonymous caller reported a bomb was planted there.

Mrs. Ruth Humphrey, police telephone worker, said the anonymous caller, a man, shouted in an excited voice that "there's a bomb in the courthouse, set to go off this afternoon." He hung up without further identification.

Police and sheriff's deputies searched the building but failed to find a bomb. Special attention was paid to the judges' chambers because Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds had reported receipt of a fifth anonymous call threatening his life. Judge Reynolds said the caller was female.

AWOL In Red Germany Gets Stiff Sentence

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. Army Pfc. Bobby F. Holland, who was absent 30 months in East Germany, today pleaded guilty before an Army court-martial to desertion and "wrongful affiliation" with Communists.

The 25-year-old soldier from Rockmart, Ga., was sentenced to 12 years at hard labor and dishonorable discharge.

Holland, who deserted from the 5th Infantry Division in West Germany, returned to allied-occupied West Berlin last month. He was accompanied by his German wife and his one-year-old son who was born in East Germany.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Military intelligence agents Monday arrested 10 men accused of planning to assassinate high police officials and create other disorders in Havana suburbs.

By 1965, Mitchell said, the gross national product must increase by 40 per cent to $560 billion. This increase, he said, will be needed to provide for a population that will exceed 193,000,000.

Ten million additional workers will be needed to achieve such an increase, Mitchell said, and they must be able to handle specialized and complex jobs.

"We must abandon catch-as-catch-can manpower policies in favor of a more intelligent and fruitful approach — an approach which determines in advance what kind of workers will be needed, and sets about developing them through the best available methods," he said.

MULLENS, W. Va. (AP)—Rescue crews continued their desperate probing into tons of rock and slate 4,000 feet inside a southern West Virginia coal mine early today in the hope that a trapped miner may still be alive.

The miner, 50-year-old Arlie Davis, was trapped with two others in the roof fall at Tierney No. 1 mine at Herndon, W. Va., Monday. The others were killed and Davis was believed dead.

The bodies of Paul D. Kratsch, 43, Princeton, and Arnold Wingo, 51, South Mullens, have been recovered.

The 115 employees of the Premier Pocahontas Co. were organized into crews to continue the round-the-clock dig.

Geo. Baldridge Denied Parole

No Consideration For 4 More Years

The Ohio Parole Commission Tuesday postpones until September 1961, further parole consideration for George Baldridge, Fayette County farmer convicted of first degree manslaughter in Nov. 15, 1955, slaying of Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick here.

Baldridge began a one to 20-year prison sentence last Nov. 29 after the Court of Appeals had confirmed action of Fayette County Common Pleas Court where the former Adams County sheriff was convicted the previous March.

Patrick was slain on Nov. 15, 1955, the opening day of the hunting season, following the arrest of one of Baldridge's relatives for having two hen pheasants in his possession.

He was committed to the penitentiary on March 9, 1956, served four days and was then released when his attorneys obtained a stay of execution pending an appeal.

The commission granted paroles to 66 penitentiary inmates, including six serving manslaughter sentences, in its actions today.

Nashville Kids Protected in Integration

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—School officials told parents to return their children to six newly integrated schools today with assurance of their safety under the double protection of local lawmen and a federal court injunction.

Federal Judge William E. Miller issued the injunction Monday after a four-hour hearing at which evidence linking 10 defendants to last week's segregationist disturbances was presented.

The order forbids John Kasper and nine others or anyone acting in concert with them from interfering with court-ordered desegregation of Nashville's first grades.

It continues in force the strong provisions of a restraining order issued last Thursday at the request of city officials.

Two of the original 12 defendants, however, were dropped from the list Monday, one for lack of evidence, one for lack of notice.

Defense lawyers strongly argued that specific terms forbidding boycott or picketing should not be included in the injunction, because this would violate rights of free speech.

Miller said these activities may be permitted under normal circumstances, but the court had a right to forbid them in the context of violence which accompanied admission of 15 Negro first-graders to five Nashville schools last Monday.

IN NEW YORK, the CWA's national director, Joseph E. Dunne, called the Western Electric strike 100 per cent effective and added: "It will be a long strike unless lan's committee, seeks election at the convention to the $50,000-a-year union presidency being relinquished by Dave Beck, another major target of the committee.

Hoffa has suffered a series of setbacks in widely separated areas. Several Teamsters groups have backed other candidates.

Monday night in Chicago, the Chicago Joint Teamster Council reaffirmed its endorsement of Hoffa for president but it released its delegates to vote as they please at the convention.

Backers of Thomas J. Haggerty, Chicago Teamsters official who is seeking the presidency, hailed the action as a victory for Haggerty.

The joint council in Chicago represents about 10 per cent of the "Teamsters' national voting strength at the convention.

The Ethical Practices Committee at its meeting here discussed charges stemming from the Senate committee's probe of the Teamsters Union, the Bakery and Confectionery Workers of America and the United Textile Workers.

It is forecast that the AFL-CIO Executive Council will fix a time limit of 30, 60 or 90 days for cleanup action by the three unions. The punishment for failure to comply probably would be suspension. Complete ouster, however, must be voted on by the AFL-CIO convention. The next convention is scheduled for Dec. 5 in Atlantic City.

McCLELLAN SAID Hoffa would be invited but would not be required to be present at the new hearings.

The 44-year-old Hoffa, front-running candidate for election as president of the union, asked the committee last week to leave him free from Sept. 13 to Oct. 10 to attend the union's convention starting in Miami Sept. 30.

Mediators Press For Phone Accord

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite regular "no progress" reports from negotiation sessions for the past 10 days, federal mediators want to take another crack at settling the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. strike. They have another session today.

The Communications Workers union called out its 18,500 members on strike against Ohio Bell at 6 a.m. Monday, simultaneously with a walkout by 23,000 Western Electric Co. employees in 45 states.

Both sides have kept an eye on the Western Electric negotiations in New York. Even if a settlement were reached in Ohio, the CWA says it would observe picket lines set up by Western Electric installers.

In New York, a federal mediator today conferred with chief negotiators for both sides in an attempt to bring about a settlement of a strike of 23,800 telephone equipment installers in 44 states and the District of Columbia.

COMMISSIONER Walter A. Magliolo, of the mediation service, said "I will have to await developments from our talks" before he could say whether there would be a resumption of full-scale negotiations.

Fairly peaceful picketing prevailed on the first day of the strike at Ohio Bell exchanges in 45 cities. The company reported local dial service was normal, but there were delays of "not more than two minutes" on long distance calls, as supervisors manned the switchboards.

In Youngstown, the union charged that a company foreman struck a picket with his fist, and the company charged that pickets refused to let supervisors into the building.

In Springfield, a woman picket filed an assault and battery charge against the company's commercial manager, claiming he knocked her down.

In Cleveland, jostling of pickets and supervisors was reported. The company said tires were slashed on company cars near one exchange, and a window was broken and locks were jammed with toothpicks at a company garage.

The company said it sent extra crews of supervisors to 15 towns where service is still on manual operation — Ironton, Barnesville, Uhrichsville, Piqua, Upper Sandusky, Sandusky, Coshocton, Gallopis, Nelsonville, New Lexington, St. Clairsville, Hillsboro, Ripley, Tiffin and Findlay.

Despite the strike, Dougherty said Monday's volume of long distance calls was normal and he added that the chief operator's report showed there has been virtually no delay in getting long distance calls through, even to cities affected by the walkout.

The service was being maintained here largely by the 65 per cent of the operators who reported to their switchboards Tuesday morning, with some supervisory and management personnel helping out.

LOCAL SERVICE here is virtually unaffected by the walkout because it is provided by automatic dial equipment, Dougherty said. Installation, repair and construction workers remained on the job here.

Quiet Follows Bloodless Coup

Policy To Continue Sarit Pledges

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Marshal Sarit Thanarat, long one of Thailand's three strong men, seized power today in a bloodless coup. There were reports pro-Western Premier P. Pibulsonggram had fled the country.

Sarit as commander in chief of Thailand's armed forces ringed Bangkok with tanks. Military units took up positions at strategic points throughout the capital.

Sarit, a reputed foe of the anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, acted only two days before a scheduled meeting in Bangkok of SEATO military advisers.

Diplomatic sources said, however, that Sarit had promised no change in foreign policy and said all treaty obligations would be met. He said all foreign lives and property would be protected.

The army radio made repeated broadcasts calling for Pibulsonggram, once Sarit's partner in power, to give himself up. The premier vanished Monday after rejecting a demand by Sarit and 58 army supporters that he resign.

Pibulsonggram's continued absence from his office led foreign embassies to believe he had fled to Hong Kong, Manila or some other nearby country.

THE PREMIER was last seen Monday going to the palace to report to King Phumiphon Aduldet on the political crisis.

Bangkok radio broadcasts insisted the coup "was inspired by the need to give expression to the will of the people following the government handling of elections last February."

Pibulsonggram's Seri Manangasila party won a small majority over seven opposition parties and independents in close, hotly contested parliamentary elections.

Feeling ran so high among political leaders that Pibulsonggram proclaimed a state of emergency in March.

The coup brought no report of violence and there was little excitement among the people.

Singapore diplomatic sources said Sarit had proclaimed himself governor of Bangkok with the agreement of the King, long regarded as a stout supporter of Pibulsonggram.

Informants here also said the young King had asked Pibulsonggram to resign. They gave no reason.

The army radio said the third member of the old triumvirate, Gen. Phao Sriyanond, commander of the nation's 40,000-man police force, surrendered at military headquarters. Also giving himself up, broadcasts said, was Adm. Yuthasart, naval commander.

COURTHOUSE Gets Hoax Bomb Call

COLUMBUS (AP)—About 1,000 persons were evacuated from the Franklin County Courthouse Monday afternoon after an anonymous caller reported a bomb was planted there.

Mrs. Ruth Humphrey, police telephone worker, said the anonymous caller, a man, shouted in an excited voice that "there's a bomb in the courthouse, set to go off this afternoon." He hung up without further identification.

Police and sheriff's deputies searched the building but failed to find a bomb. Special attention was paid to the judges' chambers because Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds had reported receipt of a fifth anonymous call threatening his life. Judge Reynolds said the caller was female.

AWOL In Red Germany Gets Stiff Sentence

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. Army Pfc. Bobby F. Holland, who was absent 30 months in East Germany, today pleaded guilty before an Army court-martial to desertion and "wrongful affiliation" with Communists.

The 25-year-old soldier from Rockmart, Ga., was sentenced to 12 years at hard labor and dishonorable discharge.

Holland, who deserted from the 5th Infantry Division in West Germany, returned to allied-occupied West Berlin last month. He was accompanied by his German wife and his one-year-old son who was born in East Germany.

School Board Gets OK on Plan To Issue Note

Changes Approved In Belle Aire Plans 'To Effect Economy'

The Washington C. H. school board, at its Monday night meeting, paved the way to issue a note for $49,250 for new boilers in the high school, new equipment for the emergency classrooms that will be used later in schools yet to be built, the $1,500 option on the 30-acre Elm Willard St. site for a new school and architect's and attorneys' fees against the $845,000 bond issued approved last November by the voters.

The action was taken after the board had been advised by its bond attorneys, Bricker, Macbarger, Evans and Barton, Columbus that such a note is valid and payable from the sale of the bonds. The note, which will bear 3 1/2 percent interest, will mature Sept. 1, 1958.

The rest of the bond issue, which is for new buildings, is being held up on advice of the attorneys because of litigation involving the Fayette County Citizens Committee.

The letter from the bond attorneys, which was received last Saturday, was accepted by the board and turned over to the First National Bank as the board's authority for issuing the note.

THE BOARD at its Monday night meeting also voted to accept the county auditor's estimated tax rate of a total of 15.4 mills for the year beginning Jan. 1, 1958. Of this, 17 mills is inside the 10-mill limitation and 10.7 mills outside the limitation. Of the total, 10.4 mills is for the general fund and 3 of a mill for bond retirement. The tax rate, which is based on the budget submitted for the schools, would produce approximately $214,000.

Two minor changes in the detailed plans for the projected new Belle Aire School were approved by the board "to effect further economy." The changes, recommended by the architects, McLaughlin and Kell of Lima, relocate the boiler room and toilets.

Four board members, Elmer Reed, William A. Lovell, Charles Pensyl and Milbourne Flee, and Superintendent W. A. Smith made plans to look over the Kemp Road School in Beavercreek Thursday. This school incorporates many of the features planned for the Belle Aire School here. McLaughlin and Kell drew the plans for it.

The estimated cost of Belle Aire School is figured at $18,000 per room, the board has been advised by the architects.

ONLY A BRIEF reference was made at the meeting to the rejection of the Citizens Committee proposal to transfer Belle Aire to the Miami Trace district and 850 acres of farm land east of the city from the Miami Trace district to the city district. Ly E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, the rejection of the proposed transfers, which had been opposed by the board and 92.4 per cent of the voters in Belle Aire, was not discussed. At the outskirts of one of the shortest meetings the board has had in months, the contract of Charles McGuff, veterans training instructor, was renewed for October, November and December at the rate of $427.77 a month, plus 8 cents a mile for travel connected with his work.

The youngster was given emergency treatment at Fayette County Memorial Hospital, her leg confined in a cast, and she was released.

Airplane sleeping berths were introduced in 1933.

'Smokey the Bear' Getting Bored with Public's Gaze

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Smokey the Bear, popular living symbol of forest fire prevention and one of the capital's most oiled celebrities, is more than bored with his right ride.

Never noted among his handlers for a pleasant disposition, Smokey often has lumbered into his house and slammed the door when he tired of the public gaze.

His distaste for the spotlight has reached the point where zoo keepers are forced to lock him out part of the day.

Smokey, now 6, was found wandering in New Mexico's Lincoln National Forest, all four feet scorched by a devastating fire. He was flown to Santa Fe, treated, and eventually brought to the zoo. Pictured in dungarees and equipped with fire-fighting shovel.

Community Chest

learned that "some of them will be pretty elaborate."

The youngsters in the line of march will represent the organizations which receive support from the Community Chest.

HOPALONG CASSIDY, the hero of Wild West movies and television to young and old alike, admittedly is expected to be one of the main attractions, an attraction that will not only bring hundreds out to see him, but also send them away with a definite awareness of the fund-raising campaign.

Hoppy, who in real life is William Boyd, a long time movie star, has agreed to come here for the parade without cost to the Community Chest and one of the directors said Tuesday after the arrangements had been completed that "we are grateful to the Med-O-Pure Dairy for making it possible." Med-O-Pure distributes Hopalong Cassidy ice cream and milk in containers bearing his likeness.

The parade will be the kickoff for the house-to-house solicitation for the Community Chest in both Washington C. H. and the rural areas of the county. The business and industry canvass will be under way by that time; it is slated to start Oct. 7.

Organizations approved by the board for participation in the Chest this year and the amounts they have requested are:

Boy Scouts and Cubs $3,800; Camp Fire Girls $1,200; Community Activities Fund $1,500; Girl Scouts $750; public park (Oakland and Millikan Aves.) $1,500; Red Cross $8,800; Fayette County Council for Retarded Children $1,000; Salvation Army $3,000; United Service Organizations $500 and YMCA (Y-Teen clubs for high school girls) $375. The 4-H clubs remain a part of the Community Chest organization but did not ask any funds this year.

An old law in Vermont once required that conductors of railway trains read passages from the Bible to passengers travelling on Sundays.

We Made Lots of Money In August, It Says Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans made money at the rate of almost 34 1/2 billion dollars a year during August, up about 1 billion from the July rate, the government estimated today.

That works out to about $2.019 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The Commerce Department's report on personal income covers wages and salaries, the net income of proprietorships and partnerships—both farm and non-farm—as well as dividends and interest, net rents received by landlords and other types of individual income.

The seasonally adjusted annual rate for August was $347,300,000, compared to $346,200,000 in July.

About half the July-August rise was in wage and salary payments, with most of the remainder in proprietors' income. Payroll increases were noted over the month in most private industries and in government. However, there was a slight drop in such categories as construction manufacturing and mining.

Total nonagricultural income moved upward from an adjusted annual rate of 330 1/2 billion dollars in July to $331,300,000,000 in August. Total agricultural income climbed by 300 million dollars to an annual rate of 16 billion.

For the first eight months of this year, personal income was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of nearly 342 billion dollars, compared to just over 323 billion in the corresponding period of last year and nearly 327 billion for the full year of 1956.

The biggest jump here was in wage and salary payments. They were at a rate of more than 238 billion dollars for the January-August period this year, compared to 224 1/2 billion for the same eight months of 1956. The figure for the full year of 1956 was 227 billion dollars.

The annual rate of personal income, in August, the middle month of the third quarter, was 5 billion dollars above that of the second quarter of this year. About two-thirds of this gain was in wages and salaries in nonmanufacturing industries. The Commerce Department said in these industries both employment and wage rates continue to climb. Payrolls in manufacturing industries remained unchanged, as declining employment and work hours offset the effects of rising wage rates.

Turnpike Cafe Profits High During August

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission said Monday its profit for the month of August from operating six restaurants on the eastern end of the road was $110,242.

If the restaurants had still been operated by the Olympic Commissary Co. of Chicago, whose contract was cancelled earlier this year, the commission would have netted only $66,453.

However, Turnpike Chairman James W. Shocknessy still wants to turn the restaurants over to another concessionaire, preferably a nationally known firm.

A commission spokesman pointed out that August is the Turnpike's busiest month, and restaurant profits are high as well as tolls. He said the commission's profits during August won't be matched if it continues the restaurant operation into the winter months. The concessionaires figure that in bidding to pay a percentage of gross the year around.

The six commission-operated restaurants grossed $353,663 during August. Operating costs were $240,421, and depreciation of equipment about $6,000.

"From two concessionaires who operate the other 10 restaurants on the pike," the commission got $99,904 during the month.

Ex-Belgian King Sees U. S. A-Installations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former King Leopold of Belgium arrived here today on his tour of U. S. atomic energy installations.

The 55-year-old ex-monarch, traveling in a U. S. Air Force plane, came here from New York, where he inspected the Brookhaven National Laboratories. "I have never seen anything so important and so big," he said. Leopold is seeking ways to use atomic energy to help Belgium improve living standards.

Chillicothe High School Cleared in Bomb Scare

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—A bomb scare today sent 1,200 students at Chillicothe High School off on an unscheduled holiday.

Principal Charles Estle said he received a call reporting a bomb was set in the school to go off this morning. Estle called the police who, after the school was emptied, began a locker by locker search of the building.

Lawsuit Hits At O'Neill Aide

Highway Chief Named In Appeals Action

COLUMBUS (AP)—A direct attack on the legal status and authority of George J. Thornmyer as acting director of the Ohio Department of Highways has been filed in the 10th District Court of Appeals.

The suit filed by Britton Kendrick of Middletown, a dismissed right-of-way agent, declares Thornmyer lacked the legal authority to fire him. Kendrick asks the court to order Gov. C. William O'Neill to reinstate him.

The suit filed by Attorney Donald Tishman of Columbus accuses O'Neill, Thornmyer and Charles M. Noble with conspiring to side-step the Ohio Constitution by having Noble act as highway director when he is not a qualified Ohio voter. Noble, a New Jersey resident when he was picked by O'Neill to head Ohio's big highway building program, is on the state payroll as a secretary to O'Neill until he can fulfill the one-year residence requirement for top state officials.

Thornmyer has been acting highway director since the O'Neill administration took office.

TISHMAN'S petition contends that because a long session of the Legislature followed Thornmyer's appointment O'Neill's failure to submit his name to the Ohio Senate for confirmation disqualified Thornmyer from authority as acting director.

Kendrick's lawsuit actually is directed toward a 30-day disciplinary suspension which preceded his dismissal. Kendrick says he was notified Aug. 5 that he was on vacation effective July 31 and suspended without pay for 30 days for disciplinary reasons effective Aug. 15. The removal order against him was effective Sept. 14. He has appealed the firing through the state Civil Service Commission.

Normally, suspensions may not be appealed, but in this case Kendrick is attempting to collect his salary for the suspension period by challenging Thornmyer's authority to suspend him.

Israeli Official Released by Reds

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An Israeli official of the embassy in Moscow who assertedly was kidnapped and threatened by Soviet police arrived by air today.

Elyahu Hazan, cultural attache, was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Walter Eytan, a Foreign Ministry official, charged Monday that Hazan was kidnapped and held for a night by security police while on a vacation at Odessa. Eytan quoted Hazan as saying the Russians threatened to kill him unless he divulged secret information.

The Israeli government has protested to Moscow.

O'Neill Says Plow Test Boosts Understanding

PEEBLES (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill today hailed cultivation of human understanding at the first World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contest held on American soil.

"The land is a common bond," he told representatives of foreign nations competing in the big Adams County event. He said:

"The plowshares we see cultivating the Adams County earth also are cultivating human understanding. This event already has made a notable contribution to the causes of world peace."

County GOP To Participate In Dinner Fund

The finance committee of the Fayette County Republican Central Committee will meet tonight to lay plans for a $50-a-plate fund raising dinner to be held Oct. 9 in Columbus at the Youth Center on the State Fairground, Belford F. Carpenter, the chairman, said.

Carpenter said the dinner, which is being held under the auspices of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee, is designed to raise funds to be divided among the county, state and national organizations.

Tickets will be sold, he explained, in all the central and southern counties.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Senator William F. Knowland of California and majority leader during the last two sessions of the Senate.

Since the proceeds from the dinner will be used for local campaigns this year and to make preparations for the 1958 county, state and national Republican campaigns, Carpenter pointed out that "this will be the last fund-raising here for two years."

At tonight's finance committee meeting here, Carpenter said, the list of contributors in 1956 will be studied and that all members of the committee will be instructed on how to accept reservations for the big dinner in Columbus Oct. 9.

HE EXPLAINED that the committee will not have tickets to the dinner; rather that they will take the reservations and send them to the Republican headquarters in Columbus, which will mail the tickets direct as soon as the $50 check is received.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

School Board Gets OK on Plan To Issue Note

Changes Approved In Belle Aire Plans 'To Effect Economy'

The Washington C. H. school board, at its Monday night meeting, paved the way to issue a note for $49,250 for new boilers in the high school, new equipment for the emergency classrooms that will be used later in schools yet to be built, the $1,500 option on the 30-acre Elm-Willard St. site for a new school and architect's and attorneys' fees against the $845,000 bond issued approved last November by the voters.

The action was taken after the board had been advised by its bond attorneys, Bricker, MacBurger, Ewalt and Barton, Columbus that such a note is valid and payable from the sale of the bonds. The note, which will bear 3 1/2 percent interest, will mature Sept. 1, 1958.

The rest of the bond issue, which is for new buildings, is being held up on advice of the attorneys because of litigation involving the Fayette County Citizens Committee.

The letter from the bond attorneys, which was received last Saturday, was accepted by the board and turned over to the First National Bank as the board's authority for issuing the note.

THE BOARD at its Monday night meeting also voted to accept the county auditor's estimated tax rate of a total of 15.4 mills for the year beginning Jan. 1, 1958. Of this, 4.7 mills is inside the 10-mill limitation and 10.7 mills outside the limitation. Of the total, 10.4 mills is for the general fund and .3 of a mill for bond retirement. The tax rate, which is based on the budget submitted for the schools, would produce approximately $214,000.

Two minor changes in the detailed plans for the projected new Belle Aire School were approved by the board "to effect further economy." The changes, recommended by the architects, McLaughlin and Keil of Lima, relocate the boiler room and toilets.

Four board members, Elmer Reed, William A. Lovell, Charles Pensyl and Milbourne Flee, and Superintendent W. A. Smith made plans to look over the Kemp Road School in Beavercreek Thursday. This school incorporates many of the features planned for the Belle Aire School here. McLaughlin and Keil drew the plans for it.

The estimated cost of Belle Aire School is figured at $18,000 per room, the board has been advised by the architects.

ONLY A BRIEF reference was made at the meeting to the rejection of the Citizens Committee proposal to transfer Belle Aire to the Miami Trace district and 850 acres of farm land east of the city from the Miami Trace district to the city district by E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction. The rejection of the proposed transfers, which had been opposed by the board and 92.4 per cent of the voters in Belle Aire, was not discussed.

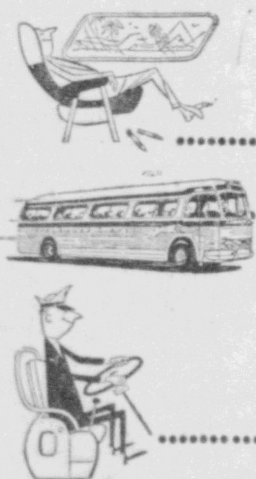

At the outset of one of the shortest meetings the board has had in months, the contract of Charles McGriff, veterans training instructor, was renewed for October, November and December at the rate of $427.77 a month, plus 8 cents a mile for travel connected with his work.

Broadway Girl Hurt In Bicycle Mishap

Patricia Wolf from, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolf from, 812 Broadway, suffered a fracture of her right leg late Monday evening when she was struck by a bicycle while crossing a street in front of her home. The bicycle was being ridden by a playmate of the youngster.

The youngster was given emergency treatment at Fayette County Memorial Hospital, her leg confined in a cast, and she was released.

Airplane sleeping berths were introduced in 1933.

'Smokey the Bear' Getting Bored with Public's Gaze

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Smokey the Bear, popular living symbol of forest fire prevention and one of the capital's most ogled celebrities, is more than bored with his right rude.

Never noted among his handlers for a pleasant disposition, Smokey often has lumbered into his house and slammed the door when he tired of the public gaze.

His distaste for the spotlight has reached the point where zoo keepers are forced to lock him out part of the day.

Smokey, now 6, was found wandering in New Mexico's Lincoln National Forest, all four feet scorched by a devastating fire. He was flown to Santa Fe, treated, and eventually brought to the zoo. Pictured in dungarees and equipped with fire-fighting shovel, learned that "some of them will be pretty elaborate."

The youngsters in the line of march will represent the organizations which receive support from the Community Chest.

HOPALONG CASSIDY, the hero of Wild West movies and television to young and old alike, admittedly is expected to be one of the main attractions, an attraction that will not only bring hundreds out to see him, but also send them away with a definite awareness of the fund-raising campaign.

Hoppy, who in real life is William Boyd, a long time movie star, has agreed to come here for the parade without cost to the Community Chest and one of the directors said Tuesday after the arrangements had been completed that "we are grateful to the Med-O-Pure Dairy for making it possible." Med-O-Pure distributes Hopalong Cassidy ice cream and milk in containers bearing his likeness.

The parade will be the kickoff for the house-to-house solicitation for the Community Chest in both Washington C. H. and the rural areas of the county. The business and industry canvass will be underway by that time; it is slated to start Oct. 7.

Organizations approved by the board for participation in the Chest this year and the amounts they have requested are:

Boy Scouts and Cubs $3,800; Camp Fire Girls $1,200; Community Activities Fund $1,500; Girl Scouts $750; public park (Oakland and Millikan Aves.) $1,500; Red Cross $8,800; Fayette County Council for Retarded Children $1,000; Salvation Army $3,000; United Service Organizations $500 and YMCA (Y-Teen clubs for high school girls) $375. The 4-H clubs remain a part of the Community Chest organization but did not ask any funds this year.

An old law in Vermont once required that conductors of railway trains read passages from the Bible to passengers travelling on Sundays.

We Made Lots of Money In August, It Says Here

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans made money at the rate of almost 347 1/2 billion dollars a year during August, up about 1 billion from the July rate, the government estimated today.

That works out to about $2,019 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The Commerce Department's report on personal income covers wages and salaries, the net income of proprietorships and partnerships—both farm and non-farm—as well as dividends and interest, net rents received by landlords and other types of individual income.

The seasonally adjusted annual rate for August was $347,300,000, compared to $346,200,000,000 in July.

About half the July-August rise was in wage and salary payments, with most of the remainder in proprietors' income. Payroll increases were noted over the month in most private industries and in government. However, there was a slight drop in such categories as construction, manufacturing and mining.

Total nonagricultural income moved upward from an adjusted annual rate of 330 1/2 billion dollars in July to $331,300,000,000 in August. Total agricultural income climbed by 300 million dollars to an annual rate of 16 billion.

For the first eight months of this year, personal income was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of nearly 342 billion dollars, compared to just over 323 billion in the corresponding period of last year and nearly 327 billion for the full year of 1956.

The biggest jump here was in wage and salary payments. They were at a rate of more than 238 billion dollars for the January-August period this year, compared to 224 1/2 billion for the same eight months of 1956. The figure for the full year of 1956 was 227 billion dollars.

The annual rate of personal income, in August, the middle month of the third quarter, was 5 billion dollars above that of the second quarter of this year. About two-thirds of this gain was in wages and salaries in nonmanufacturing industries. The Commerce Department said in these industries both employment and wage rates continue to climb. Payrolls in manufacturing industries remained unchanged, as declining employment and work hours offset the effects of rising wage rates.

Turnpike Cafe Profits High During August

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission said Monday its profit for the month of August from operating six restaurants on the eastern end of the road was $110,242.

If the restaurants had still been operated by the Olympic Commissary Co. of Chicago, whose contract was cancelled earlier this year, the commission would have netted only $66,453.

However, Turnpike Chairman James W. Shocknessy still wants to turn the restaurants over to another concessionaire, preferably a nationally known firm.

A commission spokesman pointed out that August is the Turnpike's busiest month, and restaurant profits are high as well as tolls. He said the commission's profits during August won't be matched if it continues the restaurant operation into the winter months. The concessionaires figure that in bidding to pay a percentage of gross the year around.

The six commission-operated restaurants grossed $353,663 during August. Operating costs were $240,421, and depreciation of equipment about $6,000.

From two concessionaires who operate the other 10 restaurants on the pike, the commission got $99,904 during the month.

Lawsuit Hits At O'Neill Aide

Highway Chief Named In Appeals Action

COLUMBUS (AP)—A direct attack on the legal status and authority of George J. Thormyer as acting director of the Ohio Department of Highways has been filed in the 10th District Court of Appeals.

The suit filed by Britton Kendrick of Middletown, a dismissed right-of-way agent, declares Thormyer lacked the legal authority to fire him. Kendrick asks the court to order Gov. C. William O'Neill to reinstate him.

The suit filed by Attorney Donald Tishman of Columbus accuses O'Neill, Thormyer and Charles M. Noble with conspiring to side-step the Ohio Constitution by having Noble act as highway director when he is not a qualified Ohio voter. Noble, a New Jersey resident when he was picked by O'Neill to head Ohio's big highway building program, is on the state payroll as a secretary to O'Neill until he can fulfill the one-year residence requirement for top state officials.

Thormyer has been acting highway director since the O'Neill administration took office.

TISHMAN's petition contends that because a long session of the Legislature followed Thormyer's appointment O'Neill's failure to submit his name to the Ohio Senate for confirmation disqualified Thormyer from authority as acting director.

Kendrick's lawsuit actually is directed toward a 30-day disciplinary suspension which preceded his dismissal. Kendrick says he was notified Aug. 5 that he was on vacation effective July 31 and suspended without pay for 30 days for disciplinary reasons effective Aug. 15. The removal order against him was effective Sept. 14. He has appealed the firing through the state Civil Service Commission.

Normally, suspensions may not be appealed, but in this case Kendrick is attempting to collect his salary for the suspension period by challenging Thormyer's authority to suspend him.

Israeli Official Released by Reds

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—An Israeli official of the embassy in Moscow who reportedly was kidnapped and threatened by Soviet police arrived by air today.

Elyahu Hazan, cultural attaché, was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Walter Eytan, a Foreign Ministry official, charged Monday that Hazan was kidnapped and held for a night by security police while on a vacation at Odessa. Eytan quoted Hazan as saying the Russians threatened to kill him unless he divulged secret information.

The Israeli government has protested to Moscow.

O'Neill Says Plow Test Boosts Understanding

PEEBLES (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill today hailed cultivation of human understanding at the first World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contest held on American soil.

"The land is a common bond," he told representatives of foreign nations competing in the big Adams County event. He said:

"The plowshares we see cultivating the Adams County earth also are cultivating human understanding. This event already has made a notable contribution to the causes of world peace."

Chillicothe High School Cleared in Bomb Scare

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—A bomb scare today sent 1,200 students at Chillicothe High School off on an unscheduled holiday.

Principal Charles Estle said he received a call reporting a bomb was set in the school to go off this morning. Estle called the police who, after the school was emptied, began a locker by locker search of the building.

County GOP To Participate In Dinner Fund

The finance committee of the Fayette County Republican Central Committee will meet tonight to lay plans for a $50-a-plate fund raising dinner to be held Oct. 9 in Columbus at the Youth Center on the State Fairground, Belford F. Carpenter, the chairman, said.

Carpenter said the dinner, which is being held under the auspices of the Ohio Republican Finance Committee, is designed to raise funds to be divided among the county, state and national organizations.

Tickets will be sold, he explained, in all the central and southern counties.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Senator William F. Knowland of California and majority leader during the last two sessions of the Senate.

Since the proceeds from the dinner will be used for local campaigns this year and to make preparations for the 1958 county, state and national Republican campaigns, Carpenter pointed out that "this will be the last fund-raising here for two years."

At tonight's finance committee meeting here, Carpenter said, the list of contributors in 1956 will be studied and that all members of the committee will be instructed on how to accept reservations for the big dinner in Columbus Oct. 9.

HE EXPLAINED that the committee will not have tickets to the dinner; rather they will take the reservations and send them to the Republican headquarters in Columbus, which will mail the tickets direct as soon as the $50 check is received.

13 New Polio Cases Recorded for Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—Thirteen new polio cases were reported to the Ohio Department of Health last week, compared to 43 for the corresponding week last year.

So far this year 187 polio cases have been reported, compared with 404 for the corresponding period in 1956.

The department also received reports of seven new influenza cases last week. There were no new Asian flu cases reported.

New Glamor Due Downtown Business Areas

Suburban Shopping
Centers Bring Need
For Sparkling Change

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Making a downtown area glamorous as well as economically healthy is taking on new urgency. There's a good dollar and cents motive behind it.

Competition with the suburban shopping center is sparking the idea as well as the sharper rivalry between downtown districts as merchants try to capture trade and hold it in these days of the profit margin squeeze.

Beauty as expressed in high standards of architecture and of types of business is enforced by the merchants themselves in many cities over and above city laws. At least 19 plans in 15 American cities and 19 others patterned on these in 12 foreign cities deal with a particular shopping street or area.

Billions of dollars in real estate values and retail sales are involved in the day by day fight to glamorize and protect the fame of established business centers.

The Fifth Avenue Assn., founded in New York in 1907, thinks it pays off well. It believes that much store traffic of its members is due to out of town visitors who regard Fifth Avenue as a must when seeing the city.

The New York group says merchants elsewhere have consulted it when forming their own associations. It lists similar plans in the following U. S. cities: Los Angeles, Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Newark, N. J., Miami Beach, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Boston, Kansas City, Detroit, Atlanta, Richmond and Washington, D. C.

The New Yorkers say they have helped in the formation of similar businessmen's projects in London, Dublin, Paris, Montreal, Toronto, Buenos Aires, Mexico City, Rio De Janeiro, Djursholm in Sweden, Nagoya in Japan, Rotterdam in Holland and Auckland in New Zealand.

The Fifth Avenue Assn., which started with 35 merchants, now has 1,000 members, representing the professions as well as trade, and including nearby shopping centers on Madison and Park avenues.

The group largely relies on persuasion to enforce its long list of do's and don'ts, backed by a consistent policing record that depends on vigilance, cooperation and self discipline. This is the work of one of its two departments.

Some of the rules enforced on the members are explained by its current president, John C. Wood of Brooks Brothers.

"Windows must be trimmed between midnight and dawn and behind drawn blinds," Wood says. "And they must be washed twice a week."

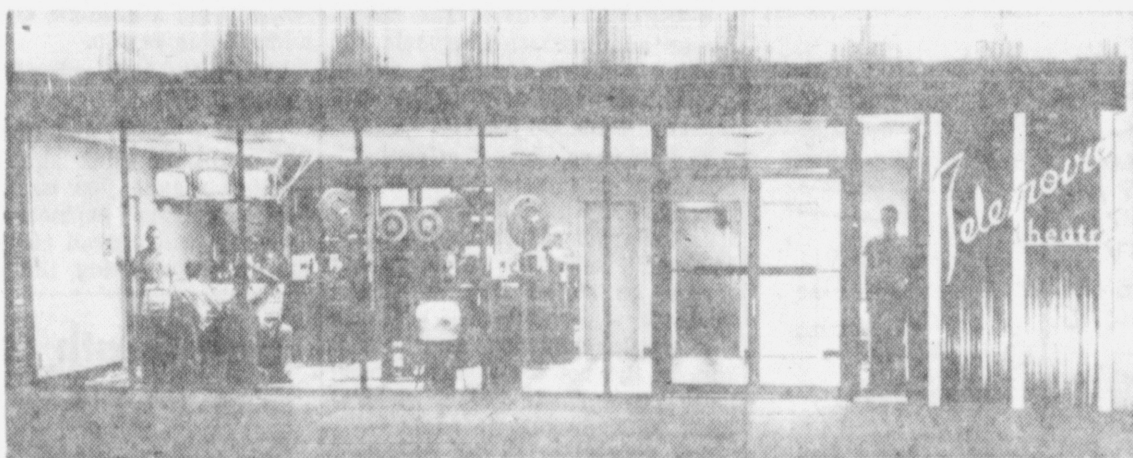

"Overhanging signs and neon lights are prohibited. After dark illumination has been custom designed to give the avenue a discreet and distinguished glow."

Strange Looking Box Is Harmless

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Bradley Coyle, 32, saw a strange looking box near his car Monday and heard strange noises when he kicked it. He stopped looking when he found inside the harmless face and works of an alarm clock, two containers and an electric switch. He called police.

But a Ft. Knox defonation expert, after investigation, said it takes more than putty, soot, wires and an old alarm clock to cause an explosion.

TELEMOVIES: First Run Films Right in the Home

The former movie theater which now televises films. Four movie projectors turn from noon to midnight, and TV cameras pick up the films from the screen and send them into Bartlesville homes.

For $9.50 a month subscribers receive 26 films, 13 first runs and 13 "best in re-runs." The Bartlesville setup is a project of Video Independent Theaters, an Oklahoma City, Okla., movie house circuit. The project is being watched by those interested in the much-discussed "subscription television" idea. The setup cost around $300,000. A $50,000 loss the first year is expected on top of that, and then profits.

World's Leading Plowmen Set for Test Near Peebles

PEEBLES, Ohio — Three years of preparation was reaching its end today for the World's Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contest.

The exposition, to be held on a 2,500-acre tract near this little Adams county town, opens today but the plowing contests won't start until Wednesday.

Promoters of the exposition and plowing contest expect a total of 250,000 to 300,000 persons to roam the grounds during the four days of the event. This is the first time the world plowing contest ever has been held in this country and it probably will be the last for many years because the site usually is rotated among competing countries.

Fourteen countries will have plowmen entered in the 1957 contest.

The first of the plowing contests will be held Wednesday when Ohioans in the state compete. The winner will compete in the national contest on Thursday with the two best plowmen becoming eligible for the 1958 world contest which will be held in Germany.

No American ever has won the world contest but Lou Gottmoeller of Mercer County, Ohio, is being rated highly in this year's event. His familiarity with Ohio soil conditions and the fact the foreigners may have some difficulty coping with the late and dry American autumn soil conditions are expected to work in Gottmoeller's favor.

In addition to the plowing contests there will be 23 conservation exhibits ranging from fish ponds to demonstrations in crop rotation and grassland farming. A large area also has been set aside for displays of farm equipment.

It has been estimated that 160 exhibitors will show an estimated million dollars worth of farm machinery.

A daily style show and appearances by the U. S. Army field band will provide entertainment.

Miss Ann D. Lane, 16-year-old Fulton County farm girl, will reign over the proceedings as "Queen of the Furrow."

The long months of preparation for the event have included getting the land in shape for the plowing contests, construction and widening of roads in and around the area and the construction of a landing field for farmers who fly their own planes and for planes of equipment dealers who will be shuttling back and forth to the scene.

A parking area, big enough for 33,000 automobiles, also has been built.

Salem Mayor Pleads Innocent

Embezzlement Charged
In Grand Jury Finding

LISBON — Mayor Dean B. Cramer of Salem pleaded innocent to an embezzlement charge before Columbiana County Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Monday and was released under $2,000 property bond.

The mayor was charged with embezzling funds of his office in a secret indictment returned by the grand jury Friday.

In Columbus, a state examiner's report showed that a deficit in the mayor's office was reduced several times during the first day of a special audit by the discovery of additional money.

The audit, released by State Auditor James A. Rhodes, covered financial activities of the mayor from Feb. 1956, to last June 2.

The examiner said a deficit of $835 at 3 p. m. on June 3 was reduced to $375 at 4:45 p. m.

The examiner said the mayor discovered the additional money in a box in a drawer of his desk.

The examiner reported that on June 27 the mayor told him that between 3 and 4:45 p. m. on June 3 he borrowed $500 from a bank to pay a personal obligation. The mayor related, the examiner reported, that when informed his funds were short, the mayor placed the borrowed money in his official cash. That was about 3:45 p. m., the examiner said.

On the morning of June 4, the examiner reported, the mayor said he discovered an additional $860 in his night deposit bag. The examiner said the mayor told him that he did not recall having that money when the cash assets were counted to offset his book responsibilities. The examiner said the mayor told him that upon discovering the $860, he removed the $500 which he said he borrowed for a personal obligation.

New Glamor Due Downtown Business Areas

Suburban Shopping Centers Bring Need For Sparkling Change

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Making a downtown area glamorous as well as economically healthy is taking on new urgency. There's a good dollar and cents motive behind it. Competition with the suburban shopping center is sparking the idea as well as the sharper rivalry between downtown districts as merchants try to capture trade and hold it in these days of the profit margin squeeze. Beauty as expressed in high standards of architecture and of types of business is enforced by the merchants themselves in many cities over and above city laws. At least 19 plans in 15 American cities and 19 others patterned on these in 12 foreign cities deal with a particular shopping street or area.

Billions of dollars in real estate values and retail sales are involved in the day by day fight to glamorize and protect the fame of established business centers.

The Fifth Avenue Assn., founded in New York in 1907, thinks it pays off well. It believes that much store traffic of its members is due to out of town visitors who regard Fifth Avenue as a must when seeing the city.

The New York group says merchants elsewhere have consulted it when forming their own associations. It lists similar plans in the following U. S. cities: Los Angeles, Chicago, Buffalo, Cleveland, Newark, N. J., Miami Beach, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Boston, Kansas City, Detroit, Atlanta, Richmond and Washington, D. C.

The New Yorkers say they have helped in the formation of similar businessmen's projects in London, Dublin, Paris, Montreal, Toronto, Buenos Aires, Mexico City, Rio De Janeiro, Djursholm in Sweden, Nagoya in Japan, Rotterdam in Holland and Auckland in New Zealand.

The Fifth Avenue Assn., which started with 35 merchants, now has 1,000 members, representing the professions as well as trade, and including nearby shopping centers on Madison and Park avenues.

The group largely relies on persuasion to enforce its long list of do's and don'ts, backed by a consistent policing record that depends on vigilance, cooperation and self discipline. This is the work of one of its two departments.

Some of the rules enforced on the members are explained by its current president, John C. Wood of Brooks Brothers.

"Windows must be trimmed between midnight and dawn and behind drawn blinds," Wood says. "And they must be washed twice a week."

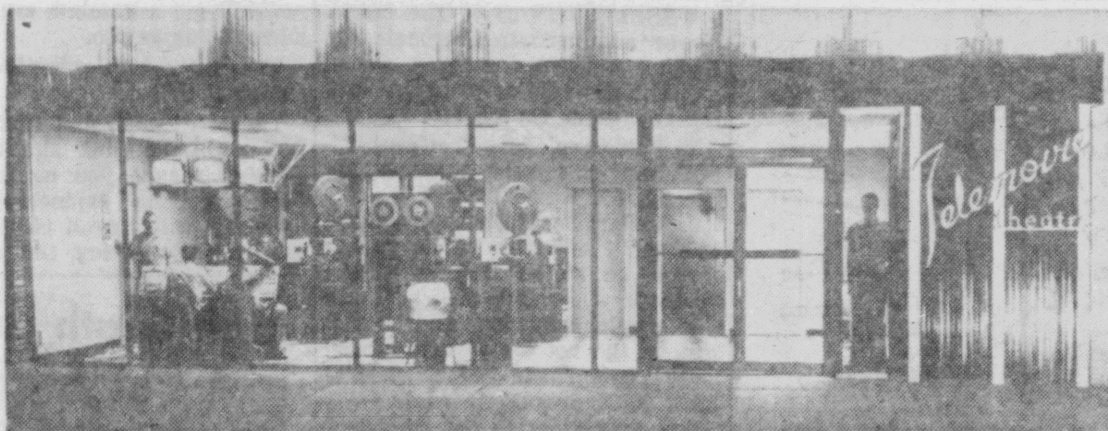

"Overhanging signs and neon lights are prohibited. After dark illumination has been custom designed to give the avenue a discreet and distinguished glow."

Meeting City Sewage Disposal Plant Needs

Regardless of the moderate increase in cost, beginning next January, to residents here, whose homes receive sewage disposal service, this city is following a wise course in providing for improvements in its sewage disposal plant.

The fact that the state set a time limit for the start of these improvements, with a penalty of $500 per day for failure to comply, probably has been a good thing for Washington C. H. because of the inadequacy of the present system which has been a cause of trouble in pouring pollution into Paint Creek which has brought complaint from land owners and threatened trouble from other cities toward which this pollution has been flowing.

The state of Ohio definitely has determined that a sewage treatment plant of proper efficiency is an essential municipal utility. Our own city cannot logically refuse to meet state requirements without a heavy penalty which would demand an increased tax rate far more costly than the increased rental to be charged against those whose homes use the service.

It has been pointed out by city officials that Washington C. H. is not requesting or needing an increase in rates of its own accord for this service, but is merely complying with orders of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board to enlarge and expand its treatment plant.

It has been estimated by engineers that the average family is producing nearly twice as much sewage as it did approximately 25 years ago, when the plant was first installed here. In addition a steadily growing population in the city and from those homes and business places just beyond the city limits which have the benefit of the disposal system here, has made a huge increase in the load which the city's facilities for sewage disposal must bear.

Many cities today under Ohio laws are being forced to pay very high sewer rates as compared with what this city has paid in the past and what are proposed in the new ordinance recently passed by the City Council. It is said that a number of these other cities are paying from two to five times as much. The present low rates here are reported to be producing only about as much revenue as the city's parking meters.

If the new rates cost the average residential user approximately only 10 cents per week more than at present, there can be little reason for any serious objections being raised.

The increased plant capacity, when new construction and improvements are completed, are reported as being properly adequate to meet the city's needs until 1980 at the present rate of growth. The resultant improvement in operation should produce a final effluent from the plant here more than 95 per cent pure.

Israel's Problem of Survival

By George Sokolsky

Israel is like the man in the middle. Whatever happens in the Middle East immediately affects Israel, even if two Arabic countries go after each other, as Syria is seeking to absorb Jordan at the present time.

Israel has become one of Soviet Russia's targets for destruction because Soviet Russia wants no representative of Western civilization and of a high standard of living in the Arab world.

Jordan and Israel are more or less the same country, an area part of which was once called the land of Canaan and at another time was called Palestine. Jerusalem is sacred to both Israel and Jordan and is divided between them. The River Jordan, noted in the Bible, runs between them in the north and when Jordan was founded, it was called Transjordan.

Jordan can have no national economy and therefore survives with difficulty. For years, it received a subvention from Great Britain. It could survive in a partnership with Israel; it could survive in a partnership with Saudi Arabia.

It cannot survive in intimate relationship with Syria which wishes to absorb Jordan as a step toward the destruction of Israel. Syria is now a satellite of Soviet Russia which has armed the country for war against its neighbors.

Such small countries as Israel and Jordan find survival difficult while the giants maneuver to avoid war. In the present situation, Israel faces the fact that the United States, which is supposed to be in conflict with Soviet Russia's policy, is providing Jordan with arms to fight Syria. But those arms might be diverted to fight Israel. In a word, suppose the tables were suddenly turned and Jordan and Syria combined to divide Israel. Syria would use Russian arms; Jordan would use American arms.

Israel was fairly close to taking the Suez Canal from Egypt but the United States intervened and at the suggestion of the United States, Israel retired from Egypt which it had defeated in war.

At the time there was much controversy as to what price the United States paid to save the face of the United States in the Middle East. The State Department has always maintained that it made no deal, but Israel said it had. Nobody has ever believed that Israel would have given up so much for no reason whatsoever.

It is almost certain that a deal of some kind must have been made because Israel has been fairly quiescent since this particular event. Even now that the United States is arming Jordan, Israel makes but a feeble complaint, although the peril is very great.

Should war break out between Syria and Jordan, Israel could be caught in a vise and the question then arises whether the United States would only protect Jordan or whether it would protect both Israel and Jordan.

The failure of American policy in Egypt and Syria is due to many causes, such as the intensification of Arab nationalism, the corruption of officials by Soviet Russia the extreme competence amounting almost to genius of Soviet propaganda among the officers of the army and the intellectuals of all Arabic countries.

But even more significant, from the American standpoint, is the demonstrable fact that the United States had nothing to say to the Arabs that made any sense to them, except that we financed oil operations, where petroleum could be found, under terms that were more satisfactory to the Arabs than even they expected.

However, such financing only enriches the already rich. It does not percolate down to army officers or to professors in the universities, who are the articulate elements in these countries. The Russians have made good use of the fact that the rich grow richer and the middle class grows poorer.

To it, we have had no answer but to show pictures of American factories surrounded by workers' automobiles and such stuff which Arabs who do not own automobiles do not believe anyhow.

One only has to read the texts of broadcasts in Arabic countries to understand the reasons for our failure. And then there is the picture that every Arab understands, namely, that Israel's policy has been faithful to the United States and that as a paying proposition that may not be as sound as being neutral between the United States and Soviet Russia.

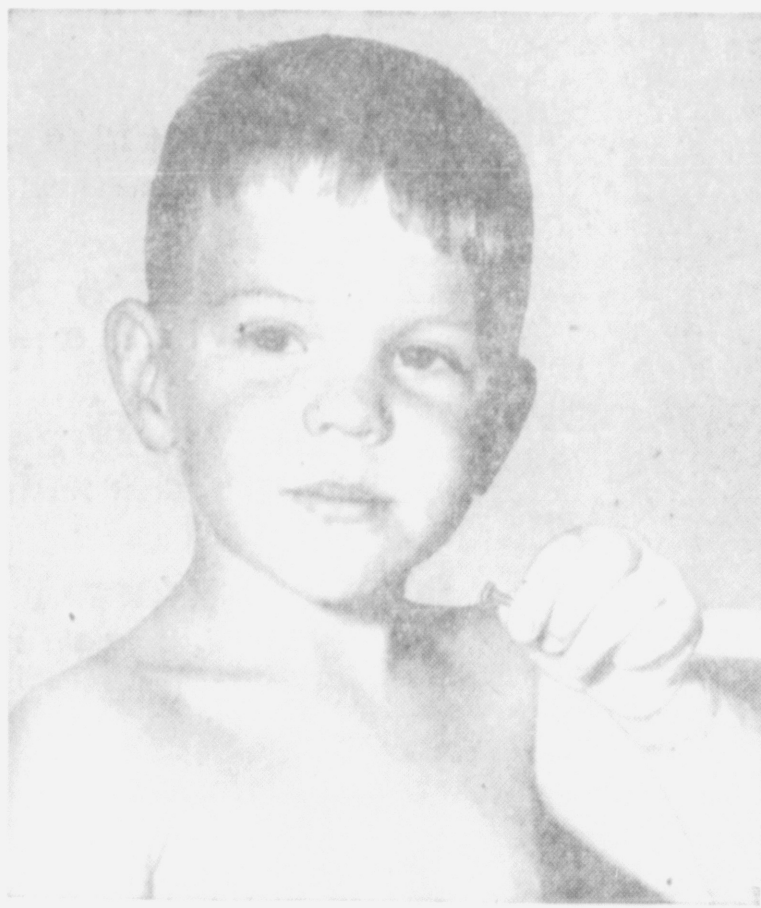

After all, it is each man looking out for his own skin.

Monkeys in Malaya in the South China Sea are trained to climb, twist off coconuts which they toss down to natives standing below. For a reward, they are given a bottle of soda pop.

Several Test Plans For Child's Hearing

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You mothers are in a better position than anyone else to detect early signs of loss of hearing in your children. You are with them more than Dad or any other member of the family and you are more familiar with their reactions.

If your tot responds less readily to speech or to simple sounds than your other children did at the same age, then be alert for other signals indicating hearing difficulties.

You don't have to wait until the youngster is old enough to talk to test his hearing.

Here are a few ways it can be done at different ages.

You can test the hearing of an infant between the ages of 10 days and three months with a sound instrument such as a drum, a tom-tom, cowbell or pitch pipe.

This test should be made when the baby is awake or in a light sleep. Be sure not to do it when he is crying.

Usually a child who is able to hear these noises will blink his eyes, cry or move suddenly. Also, he will probably cease his activities momentarily as he stops to listen.

Routine testing of the Moro Reflex can be used on babies from three to four months of age. If the child's hearing is good, a sudden loud noise probably will cause him to throw out both arms and bring them back toward each other jerkily, with fingers first fanned out and then clenched.

Youngsters between four and six months respond better in testing situations to the human voice, especially one which is quiet and familiar. If a child's hearing is normal, simply speaking to him in a normal voice will cause him to turn his head.

Between the ages of six months and one year, a child with normal hearing will recognize sounds which mean something to him. His own gabbings will become more varied and significant.

From one year to the age of two, a youngster with good hearing ability will begin to understand more words and to speak a few of them.

After the age of two, you can test a child's hearing by speaking behind his back or by making other sounds out of his sight.

For these tests it's a good idea to pick a wide range of sounds. Use instruments with various pitches, such as a drum or tom-tom for the low tones and a whistle for the high ones.

A piano or violin might give you a fair idea of the youngster's hearing range. A radio also might provide an indication of hearing acuity.

Try and Stop Me

STEPHEN POTTER, English humorist who developed "Gamesmanship" and "Lifemanship" into a business paying big dividends, declares he won his bride, Heather, by "Woo-manship."

Asked to amplify the statement, Potter explains, "I abandoned the Gradually Awakening Interest approach straight off, and staked all on the Odds-on Ploy. This is sure-fire for men like myself who are so unemphatic and careless in their dress that they often go out wearing unmatched socks. It arouses the full mother instinct in every woman, and it's only a question of time till she melts in your arms."

A subteen lad composed this touching poem to commemorate his mother's birthday:

The Nation Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration expects the feeding and fussing over school integration to die down before long for two main reasons:

1. Public opinion. President Eisenhower has said this on the record.

2. Dollars and cents Eisenhower hasn't said this publicly, but it can be stated that he thinks business and industrial pressure will squelch violence, and that it will, in the not too distant future, force compliance with federal court antisegregation orders.

One man close to the President puts it this way: "Suppose you wanted to build a plant in the South. Where would you build it — in Arkansas or in Missouri?"

He meant, of course, in a state where troops have been called out or in a state where integration has started smoothly.

In other words, would you invest your money in a state where there's trouble or in a state where peace seems assured?

This can't help influencing governors and other key officials of Southern states.

Arkansas, the state where National Guard troops have been posted to keep some Negro pupils out of a high school in Little Rock, is a good example.

It's a poor state, measured by such things as industrial resources. It wants more industry. It has paid for a national advertising campaign to attract investment by outsiders.

Whatever the local sentiment may be on the integration question, administration officials don't see how Gov. Orval E. Faubus can resist pressure to calm things down if he wants to raise living standards in his state. Nobody doubts that he does want that.

This sort of pressure is by no means confined to Arkansas. Reporter William Hines told in last Sunday's Washington Star of a talk he had some months ago with a business leader in Winston-Salem, N.C.

"Among us," Hines quoted the man as saying, "we represent probably 95 per cent of the financial resources of Forsyth County. We quietly passed the word that trouble here would be bad for business and we weren't going to have any. We have this thing so well locked up that a cab driver couldn't get a gasoline credit card without our say-so.

"No, there isn't going to be any trouble."

There wasn't. And the Eisenhower people think similar pressure — maybe you could call it public opinion — engineered from above — will prevail elsewhere in the South, allowing for different local situations and expecting to overnight miracles.

Some of Eisenhower's critics say he should take a firmer stand against violence and come out unequivocally for integration. The Democratic Advisory Council said Sunday, for instance, that he "has lost an opportunity to exert leadership in behalf of law and order."

The White House showed itself irked at this and a number of similar criticisms, not all of them from partisan sources.

Plainly, the President's policy is to let things work themselves out among the people involved — confident that, in the long run, the American people will prove themselves law-abiding without any uncalculated mixing in a difficult situation by people from Washington.

If Eisenhower is right, his policy will go down in history as one of wisdom.

If he is wrong, the responsibility for the stoning of children and for the dynamiting of schools—as in Nashville, Tenn.—may be laid at his door.

Wheeling To Receive Trophy from Gunboat

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A silver punch bowl presented to the U. S. Navy gunboat Wheeling 60 years ago by residents here will be returned to the city.

Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. (R-WVa) is scheduled to hand the bowl over to President John C. McCormell of the Ohio Valley Board of Trade within the next week. The Navy has turned the relic over to the congressman.

The piece of silver was presented to personnel of the gunboat on Sept. 2, 1897, and it was on board until the Wheeling was removed from active service in 1919.

Meeting City Sewage Disposal Plant Needs

Regardless of the moderate increase in cost, beginning next January, to residents here, whose homes receive sewage disposal service, this city is following a wise course in providing for improvements in its sewage disposal plant.

The fact that the state set a time limit for the start of these improvements, with a penalty of $500 per day for failure to comply, probably has been a good thing for Washington C. H. because of the inadequacy of the present system which has been a cause of trouble in pouring pollution into Paint Creek which has brought complaint from land owners and threatened trouble from other cities toward which this pollution has been flowing.

The state of Ohio definitely has determined that a sewage treatment plant of proper efficiency is an essential municipal utility. Our own city cannot logically refuse to meet state requirements without a heavy penalty which would demand an increased tax rate far more costly than the increased rental to be charged against those whose homes use the service.

It has been pointed out by city officials that Washington C. H. is not requesting or needing an increase in rates of its own accord for this service, but is merely complying with orders of the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board to enlarge and expand its treatment plant.

It has been estimated by engineers that the average family is producing nearly twice as much sewage as it did approximately 25 years ago, when the plant was first installed here. In addition a steadily growing population in the city and from those homes and business places just beyond the city limits which have the benefit of the disposal system here, has made a huge increase in the load which the city's facilities for sewage disposal must bear.

Many cities today under Ohio laws are being forced to pay very high sewer rates as compared with what this city has paid in the past and what are proposed in the new ordinance recently passed by the City Council. It is said that a number of these other cities are paying from two to five times as much. The present low rates here are reported to be producing only about as much revenue as the city's parking meters.

If the new rates cost the average residential user approximately only 10 cents per week more than at present, there can be little reason for any serious objections being raised.

The increased plant capacity, when new construction and improvements are completed, are reported as being properly adequate to meet the city's needs until 1980 at the present rate of growth. The resultant improvement in operation should produce a final effluent from the plant here more than 95 per cent pure.

Israel's Problem of Survival

Israel is like the man in the middle. Whatever happens in the Middle East immediately affects Israel, even if two Arab countries go after each other, as Syria is seeking to absorb Jordan at the present time.

Israel has become one of Soviet Russia's targets for destruction because Soviet Russia wants no representative of Western civilization and of a high standard of living in the Arab world.

Jordan and Israel are more or less the same country, an area part of which was once called the land of Canaan and at another time was called Palestine. Jerusalem is sacred to both Israel and Jordan and is divided between them. The River Jordan, noted in the Bible, runs between them in the north and when Jordan was founded, it was called Transjordan.

Jordan can have no national economy and therefore survives with difficulty. For years, it received a subvention from Great Britain. It could survive in a partnership with Israel; it could survive in a partnership with Saudi Arabia.

It cannot survive in intimate relationship with Syria which wishes to absorb Jordan as a step toward the destruction of Israel. Syria is now a satellite of Soviet Russia which has armed the country for war against its neighbors.

Such small countries as Israel and Jordan find survival difficult while the giants maneuver to avoid war. In the present situation, Israel faces the fact that the United States, which is supposed to be in conflict with Soviet Russia's policy, is providing Jordan with arms to fight Syria. But those arms might be diverted to fight Israel. In a word, suppose the tables were suddenly turned and Jordan and Syria combined to divide Israel. Syria would use Russian arms; Jordan would use American arms.

Israel was fairly close to taking the Suez Canal from Egypt but the United States intervened and at the suggestion of the United States, Israel retired from Egypt which it had defeated in war.

At the time there was much controversy as to what price the United States paid to save the face of the United States in the Middle East. The State Department has always maintained that it made no deal, but Israel said it had. Nobody has ever believed that Israel would have given up so much for no reason whatsoever.

It is almost certain that a deal of some kind must have been made because Israel has been fairly quiescent since this particular event. Even now that the United States is arming Jordan, Israel makes but a feeble complaint, although the peril is very great.

Should war break out between Syria and Jordan, Israel could be caught in a vise and the question then arises whether the United States would only protect Jordan or whether it would protect both Israel and Jordan.

The failure of American policy in Egypt and Syria is due to many causes, such as the intensification of Arab nationalism, the corruption of officials by Soviet Russia the extreme competence amounting almost to genius of Soviet propaganda among the officers of the army and the intellectuals of all Arab countries.

But even more significant, from the American standpoint, is the demonstrable fact that the United States had nothing to say to the Arabs that made any sense to them, except that we financed oil operations, where petroleum could be found, under terms that were more satisfactory to the Arabs than even they expected.

However, such financing only enriches the already rich. It does not percolate down to a army officers or to professors in the universities, who are the articulate elements in these countries. The Russians have made good use of the fact that the rich grow richer and the middle class grows poorer.

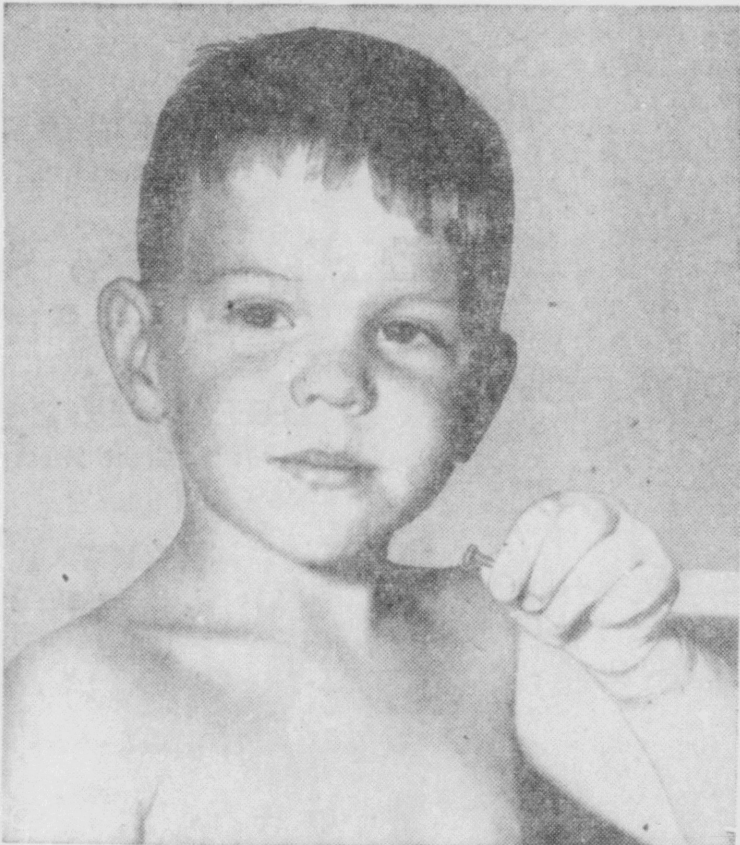

To it, we have had no answer but to show pictures of American factories surrounded by workers' automobiles and such stuff which Arabs who do not own automobiles do not believe anyhow.

One only has to read the texts of broadcasts in Arabic countries to understand the reasons for our failure. And then there is the picture that every Arab understands, namely, that Israel's policy has been faithful to the United States and that as a paying proposition that may not be as sound as being neutral between the United States and Soviet Russia.

After all, it is each man looking out for his own skin.

Monkeys in Malaya in the South China Sea are trained to climb, twist off coconuts which they toss down to natives standing below. For a reward, they are given a bottle of soda pop.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You mothers are in a better position than anyone else to detect early signs of loss of hearing in your children. You are with them more than Dad or any other member of the family and you are more familiar with their reactions.

If your tot responds less readily to speech or to simple sounds than your other children did at the same age, then be alert for other signals indicating hearing difficulties.

You don't have to wait until the youngster is old enough to talk to test his hearing.

Here are a few ways it can be done at different ages.

You can test the hearing of an infant between the ages of 10 days and three months with a sound instrument such as a drum, a tomtom, cowbell or pitch pipe. This test should be made when the baby is awake or in a light sleep. Be sure not to do it when he is crying.

Usually a child who is able to hear these noises will blink his eyes, cry or move suddenly. Also, he will probably cease his activities momentarily as he stops to listen.

Routine testing of the Moro Reflex can be used on babies from three to four months of age.

If the child's hearing is good, a sudden loud noise probably will cause him to throw out both arms and bring them back toward each other jerkily, with fingers first fanned out and then clenched.

Youngsters between four and six months respond better in testing situations to the hum a voice, especially one which is quiet and familiar. If a child's hearing is normal, simply speaking to him in a normal voice will cause him to turn his head.

Between the ages of six months and one year, a child with normal hearing will recognize sounds which mean something to him. His own gabbng will become more varied and significant.

From one year to the age of two, a youngster with good hearing ability will begin to understand more words and to speak a few of them.

After the age of two, you can test a child's hearing by speaking behind his back or by making other sounds out of his sight.

For these tests it's a good idea to pick a wide range of sounds. Use instruments with various pitches, such as a drum or tomtom for the low tones and a whistle for the high ones.

A piano or violin might give you a fair idea of the youngster's hearing range. A radio also might provide an indication of hearing acuity.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Naval Airman Dan Wipert son of Mr. and Mrs. Ro, Wipert, CCC Highway west, recently was able to photograph the big jet passenger plane developed by the Russians, and used to fly some 32 U.N. Delegates from Russia to this country.

The plane had to land at the McGuire Air Force Base, in New Jersey, where the Fayette County boy has been stationed during a large part of his 18 months in the Naval Air Service.

At first the Russians would not cooperate so he could obtain a picture of the plane and pilot, but after some talking through the Russian interpreter, he was able to get the picture desired, and the Russian interpreter gave him a Russian postcard showing the plane and giving a description of it (in Russian).

Dan sent the photos and card to his parents, and is proud of the fact that he was one of few persons to obtain photos of the new type airliner.

BUILDING NEW BRIDGE

Work of erecting a new bridge on Route 138, over the North Fork of Paint Creek at Austin is well under way, and the abutments and piers have been completed preparatory to laying the superstructure which will consist of steel beams and concrete.

The new bridge is immediately below the present light steel structure, and necessitates some rebuilding of the approaches.

Formerly Route 35 passed over the present bridge until a new road to the north was built.

"EGYPTIANS" ROUTED

"Border warfare—actually a youth gang war—existed in eastern Fayette County and northwest Ross County 100 years and more ago.

So it will be seen that present day youth gang wars are nothing new, as the following information discloses.

Handed down from residents who lived in Plano (Dog Town) community 100 years ago, comes the story that the North Fork of Paint Creek marked the western border line of the big area in Ross County known as "Egypt," so called because the area produced wonderful crops when crops in this community and Pickaway County failed. As a result, trips were made into the favored area in Ross County and grain brought back here for food.

Old timers along the west bank of the creek called the residents east of the stream "Egyptians," and if youngsters reached the west side of North Fork, they were driven home with clubs and stones by the boys west of the stream.

Likewise if the "Egyptians" caught boys from the west side of the stream prowling east of the stream, they were driven back to their own territory.

How long this border feud lasted I do not know, but it seems to have disappeared when the stream was bridged and the fords abolished.

TIN PEDDLER ROUTED

Fearless farm women were formerly called upon to take quick and decisive action for their own protection when tramps and other "gentry" became offensive.

A good example of this is shown in the accompanying story, and the incident occurred many years ago when "tin peddlers" walked about the county selling their wares to farm folks and others.

One of these peddlers appeared at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cessler on the White Rd., was refused admittance when he sought to sell his wares, and tried to force his way into the Cessler home.

Mrs. Cessler shoved him aside, "rabbed" a curling iron from a near by drawer, and with only the bright "barrel" of the curler visible in her hand, shouted that she would "blow his head off."

She started after him, and the peddler in his mad rush to escape from being "shot" with the curler crashed through the yard gate, breaking it down, and ran down the road as fast as he could waggle the big pack of tinware he carried over his shoulders.

JUST EXPLORING

Enroute to Columbus late one afternoon recently, we saw two airmen flying tens of thousands of feet high, appear from nowhere and start leaving a trail of vapor behind them.

A series of huge thunderheads were piled high in the heavens to the north, the monster cloud formations much resembling great masses of cotton, and extending several miles into the sky.

The two planes, barely visible as silver specks as they headed the vapor trails, swung to the northward and passed high above the highest thunderhead, still leaving a trail of vapor behind them.

Apparently they were flying at 45,000 to 60,000 feet and far above the storm clouds, which later broke furiously over Central Ohio with a deluge of rain, wind and lightning.

Part of the storm extended into Fayette County, and during the height of the downpour of rain some local residents were forced to halt in the road, as it was impossible (without a center stripe) to keep in the highway.

TV Director Harassed but Still Happy

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's most happily harassed man of the week is Bill Colleran.

"It works out fine," he says. "The more hectic things get the calmer I become."

Colleran, who looks and moves like a varsity fullback, is juggling a couple of the prize directorial plums of the season. His efforts are to be seen on rival networks.

First to appear before the public is the "Polly Bergen Show," a bi-weekly regular that debuts next Saturday (Sept. 21) over NBC.

The other, and more formidable, is "Crescendo," the first star-packed special of the season on Columbia, Sunday, Sept. 29.

This 90-minute "Show of the Month" has a lineup including Rex Harrison through Benny Goodman, Ethel Merman, Carol Channing, Louis Armstrong, Peggy Lee and a half-dozen other stars.

Colleran sums up the contrast ing problems of his twin tasks. "All of us say 'we've got to do something different' as a singing show," he says of the Polly Bergen item. "The solution—a flexible format."

"Crescendo" is being produced by Paul Gregory, who chalked up such Broadway hits as "Don Juan in Hell" and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
Naval Airman Dan Wipert son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert, CCC Highway west, recently was able to photograph the big jet passenger plane developed by the Russians, and used to fly some 32 U.N. Delegates from Russia to this country.

The plane had to land at the McGuire Air Force Base, in New Jersey, where the Fayette County boy has been stationed during a large part of his 18 months in the Naval Air Service.

At first the Russians would not cooperate so he could obtain a picture of the plane and pilot, but after some talking through the Russian interpreter, he was able to get the pictures desired, and the Russian interpreter gave him a Russian postcard showing the plane and giving a description of it (in Russian).

Dan sent the photos and card to his parents, and is proud of the fact that he was one of few persons to obtain photos of the new type airliner.

BUILDING NEW BRIDGE

Work of erecting a new bridge on Route 138, over the North Fork of Paint Creek at Austin is well under way, and the abutments and piers have been completed preparatory to laying the superstructure which will consist of steel beams and concrete.

The new bridge is immediately below the present light steel structure, and necessitates some rebuilding of the approaches.

Formerly Route 35 passed over the present bridge until a new road to the north was built.

"EGYPTIANS" ROUTED

"Border warfare—actually a youth gang war—existed in eastern Fayette County and northwestern Ross County 100 years and more ago.

So it will be seen that present day youth gang wars are nothing new, as the following information discloses.

Handed down from residents who lived in Plano (Dog Town) community 100 years ago, comes the story that the North Fork of Paint Creek marked the western border line of the big area in Ross County known as "Egypt," so called because the area produced wonderful crops when crops in this community and Pickaway County failed. As a result, trips were made into the favored area in Ross County and grain brought back here for food.

Old timers along the west bank of the creek called the residents east of the stream "Egyptians," and if youngsters reached the west side of North Fork, they were driven home with clubs and stones by the boys west of the stream.

Likewise if the "Egyptians" caught boys from the west side of the stream prowling east of the stream, they were driven back to their own territory.

How long this border feud lasted I do not know, but it seems to have disappeared when the stream was bridged and the fords abolished.

TIN PEDDLER ROUTED

Fearless farm women were formerly called upon to take quick and decisive action for their own protection when tramps and other "gentry" became offensive.

A good example of this is shown in the accompanying story, and the incident occurred many years ago when "tin peddlers" walked about the county selling their wares to farm folks and others.

One of these peddlers appeared at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cessler on the White Rd., was refused admittance when he sought to sell his wares, and tried to force his way into the Cessler home.

Mrs. Cessler shoved him aside, grabbed a curling iron from a near by drawer, and with only the bright "barrel" of the curler visible in her hand, shouted that she would "blow his head off."

She started after him, and the peddler in his mad rush to escape from being "shot" with the curler crashed through the yard gate, breaking it down, and ran down the road as fast as he could waggle the big pack of tinware he carried over his shoulders.

Enroute to Columbus late one afternoon recently, we saw two airmen flying tens of thousands of feet high, appear from nowhere and start leaving a trail of vapor behind them.

A series of huge thunderheads were piled high in the heavens to the north, the monster cloud formations much resembling great masses of cotton, and extending several miles into the sky.

The two planes, barely visible as silver specks as they headed the vapor trails, swung to the northward and passed high above the highest thunderhead, still leaving a trail of vapor behind them.

Apparently they were flying at 45,000 to 60,000 feet and far above the storm clouds, which later broke furiously over Central Ohio with a deluge of rain, wind and lightning.

Part of the storm extended into Fayette County, and during the height of the downpour of rain some local residents were forced to halt in the road, as it was impossible (without a center stripe) to keep in the highway.

PREPAREDNESS PAYS OFF!

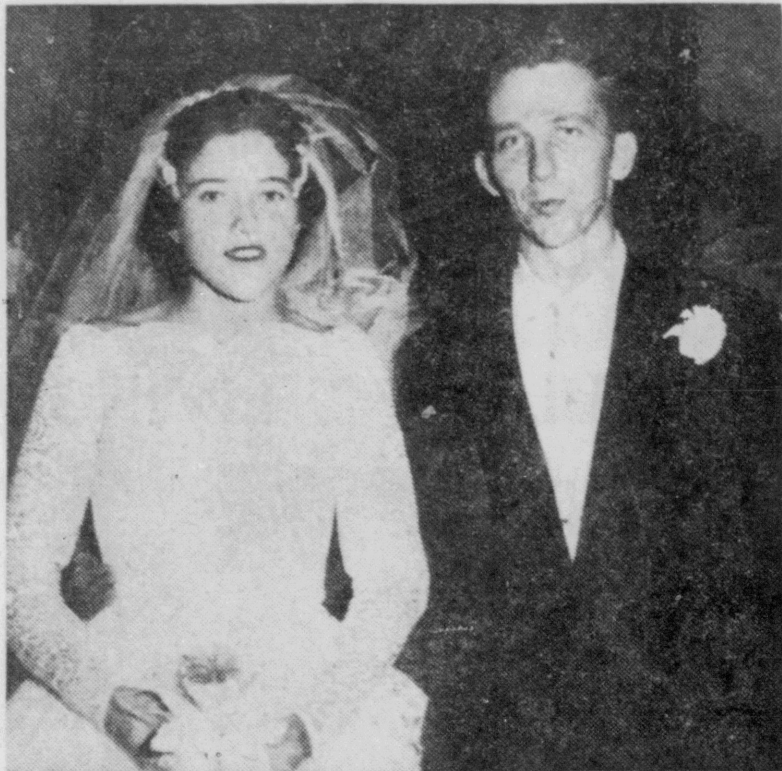

If you make the necessary preparations before your painter arrives, you'll save his time and your money. Remove vases, bric-a-brac, ash trays and accessories from the room that is to be painted and put them safely away. Take down pictures, mirrors, draperies and curtains . . . and if possible remove the rug. Provide a convenient, safe place for the painter to store paints, ladders and brushes. He will do the rest. Before your painter arrives, it is a good idea to have a definite color sample which he can match. Come in, see our color samples and let us help you make your color selections.

MR. AND MRS. BILL SHEPPARD

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Roush of Leesburg announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ann Roush, to Mr. Bill G. Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sheppard of Glen Rogers, W. Va.

The wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at White Oak Methodist Church with the Rev. A. F. Pinnell performing the ceremony.

A half hour of nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Mr. Harold Davis, nephew of the bride, as organist. The Rev. Robert Purcell was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Shanks.

The altar was decorated with two-seven branch candelabra, tall baskets of white gladiolus and mums and greenery.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with long sleeves tapered to bridal points. The scalloped Sabrina neckline was high-lighted by sequins and pearl embroidery. The bouffant skirt featured a dropped detail at the dropped waist and hem line. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was attached to a pearl and sequin tiara. She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid, from which white carnations were scattered in loops of white satin ribbon.

The fitted bodice was designed with reverse cowl neckline in a deeper shade of rose ending in back with a "V", finished with a tailored bow of deeper rose. The very bouffant circular skirt joined the dropped waist line with points of ballerina length. A velvet flower halo hat with tiny scalloped veil matched the shade of the cowl. Lausche Gives Up Panel Post In Favor of Newest Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides on the Senate Banking Committee said today Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) had all his work cleaned up by the time he left to make room for Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis.). Lausche quit the committee as a favor to Senate Majority Leader John (D-Tex.) so that a committee assignment could be made for the new Wisconsin senator. At the time, the Ohioan was chairman of a banking subcommittee considering legislation governing the purchase and sale of stocks and bonds. A committee staff member said Lausche had held hearings on all pending business before that subcommittee but that a large portion of this legislation still is before the full committee. Only two bills handled by Lausche's group have been passed by the Senate. Still requiring House action, they would: 1. List of Leaders Growing For Weekly Prayer Meets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Increasing numbers of the nation's leaders are quietly meeting in weekly prayer sessions to seek guidance and strength in discharging their heavy responsibilities. In Washington, there are now 19 such groups, including two on Capitol Hill, several in the Pentagon and one at the Federal Trade Commission. A group from the State, Commerce and Agriculture Departments officials met every Tuesday at the YMCA. There was much talk of a "religious revival" when the new prayer room in the Capitol was readied in 1955 for use by members of Congress for moments of quiet meditation. Actually, some members have been gathering at weekly prayer meeting breakfasts at the Capitol since 1941 to "ponder ways and means of living amid the world's problems in a manner acceptable to God." Though they shun publicity, at least 35 senators have been meeting each Wednesday in the Vandenberg Room, and more than 60 members of the House in the House restaurant on Thursdays. Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) is chairman of the Senate group and Rep. L. H. Fountain (D-SC) is chairman of the House group. The idea for the prayer meeting clubs started in 1933, in Seattle, Wash., and has snowballed throughout the United States and many other countries. There are about 130 clubs in the United States, some of them made up of women. The groups function under International Christian Leadership which is an interdenominational organization. Princess Wilhelmina of the Netherlands is honorary president of the international council. O'Neill Books Parley On Old Age Program COLUMBUS (AP)—Gov. C. Cost of longer hospitalization would fall on local officials under that program.

Maryland Publisher, Editor Under Fire by Circuit Judge

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—The publisher and editor of the Enterprise, weekly newspaper of Lexington Park, have posted $100 bonds on charges arising from editorials concerning a circuit judge. J. Sheridan Fahnestock, the publisher, and Alfred Toombs, managing editor, each was indicted Friday by the grand jury on charges of obstructing justice and maintaining a public nuisance. Bonds of $50 on each was posted with C. B. Greenwell, circuit clerk. A motion to dismiss the charges has been filed by the defendants' lawyer. Circuit Judge Phillip H. Dorsey Jr., longtime county Democratic leader who sold the Enterprise to Fahnestock 11 years ago, ordered the grand jury last Monday to determine whether the newspaper should be cited for contempt of court. "When a newspaper deliberately attempts to warp the facts and convey a false impression editorially, it is not acting in good faith," the judge told the jurors. Toombs called the judge's charge "a political vendetta and attempt to silence the paper." The indictments, each naming both men, charged them with two misdemeanors: (1) "Unlawfully creating and maintaining a public nuisance by false and malicious statements to the detriment of the public," and (2) "Obstructing justice by falsifying information and maliciously publishing same in an effort to hinder, obstruct, embarrass and impede the Circuit Court of St. Marys County and members of the property review boards." State's Atty. Walter Dorsey, son of the judge, said the indictments were based on editorials the paper printed which were critical of Judge Dorsey's appointments to the two boards. Property review boards rule on the worth of property when there is a difference between the state roads commission's appraisal of property it wants and the owner's evaluation. Judge Dorsey did not call for contempt of court indictments but said it was up to the jury to decide whether it wanted to make presentments against the publisher, managing editor or anyone who wrote the editorials. The indictments contained no mention of contempt and state's Atty. Dorsey said the charges contained in them were misdemeanors. In recent years, the Enterprise has been critical of county officialdom, coming out with stories on slot machines, illegal gambling activities and alleged "conflict of interest" situations involving county officials. The weekly opposed Judge Dorsey's election to the bench last year. Toombs called the indictments "a blatant infringement on freedom of the press."

Lausche Gives Up Panel Post In Favor of Newest Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Aides on the Senate Banking Committee said today Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) had all his work cleaned up by the time he left to make room for Sen. Proxmire (D-Wise).

Lausche quit the committee as a favor to Senate Majority Leader John (D-Tex) so that a committee assignment could be made for the new Wisconsin senator.

At the time, the Ohioan was chairman of a banking subcommittee considering legislation governing the purchase and sale of stocks and bonds.

A committee staff member said Lausche had held hearings on all pending business before that subcommittee, but that a large portion of this legislation still is before the full committee.

Only two bills handled by Lausche's group have been passed by the Senate. Still requiring House action, they would:

1. Make it easier for small businesses to sell securities by raising the ceiling from $300,000 to $500,000 on issues exempt from full registration with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

2. Increase the fee that must be paid the SEC by the New York and American stock exchanges. This fee also would be applied, for the first time, to sales of over-the-counter securities by broker-dealers.

Lausche's office said that about 20 bankers and financiers have written him expressing disappointment that he was dropped from the banking committee.

Asked whether Lausche himself was disappointed, an aide replied: "The senator never expresses disappointment. He said he would be kept very busy with his duties on the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee."

An aide to Majority Leader Johnson said that if there is any further change in the Senate make-up, through death or election, Lausche will be offered a spot on just about any committee he wants.

Leedom, chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, is president of the national group. Abraham Vereide of Washington is executive director.

"The groups consist of leaders who meet weekly for Christian fellowship, Bible study, discussion and prayer in a non-sectarian and non-partisan setting," explains Vereide. "The idea was to develop not an institution, but a movement, a strategy to promote a spiritually strong America and to develop men and women committed to Christ in key positions of leadership in the world over—a leadership led by God."

18 Workmen Hurt In Mill Explosion

OAKLAND, Calif. — An explosion ripped off the roof of the big waterfront Albers Grain Mill here, gutting the sixth floor and seriously injuring 18 workers, some critically.

Several workers were hurled from the building, along with shattered windows, steel and concrete that scattered for hundreds of feet along the adjoining Southern Pacific railway.

Damage was estimated at $100,000 by plant officials.

Fire Marshal Edwin A. Hentzel said a spark in the heavy grain dust could have triggered the explosion.

hundreds of movie scores, as he also declares. His only big studio job was as head of Paramount's music department, a supervisory post.

But Morros' real achievements in Hollywood were almost as impressive as his exploits in espionage. A co-worker recalls that Morros started with Paramount as a leader of traveling stage show bands in 1925. He was popular at the circuit's Memphis theater and was held over as regular conductor. He returned to New York as head of stage conductors for the chain, and later took charge of all music.

He came to Paramount Studios in 1935, hoping to become a producer. But he was placed in command of the music department.

At the end of his three-year contract in 1938, Morros left Paramount to fulfill his ambition to produce. He kept after William LeBaron, then Paramount studio boss, to join him. After putting off Morros for weeks, LeBaron agreed to meet him at a Beverly Hills cafe.

LeBaron entered to find Morros in a private dining room set as a banquet for two. Morros' strategy worked. LeBaron joined him in producing pictures.

Morros produced "Flying Deuces" with Laurel and Hardy, "Second Chorus" with Fred Astaire, the all-star "Tales of Manhattan" and the longhair "Carnegie Hall." None prospered at the box office.

Rural Ministers To Get Briefing at Sabina Sept. 25

SABINA—The Rev. Sidney Sandridge, research assistant in rural church administration at Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., will speak at a coaching conference rural ministers of the Ohio Conference of The Methodist Church on Wednesday Sept. 25.

Also included on the program for the meeting sponsored by the Town and Country Commission of The Ohio Conference are: Dr. Lynn C. Radcliffe, pastor of Hyde Park Community Methodist Church, Cincinnati, and the Rev. Ray Eschman, pastor of the Methodist Church at Mutual, Ohio.

The Rev. Waid Radford of Pikesville is chairman of the commission which is sponsoring the conferences.

3 Local Residents Attend National Legion Convention

F. Paul Souther, 421 W. Court St., and Mr. and Mrs. William Stoughton, 702 S. Fayette St., are in Atlantic City, N. J., this week for the national convention of the American Legion.

Souther, second vice commander of the Washington C. H. post, and Stoughton, immediate past district commander, are both district delegates to the convention.

Purposes of the national convention include election of new national officers and formulation of national policy for the coming year. Commander Norman Boop of the local post commented.

The Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, of which Stoughton is manager, is keeping regular office hours this week despite his absence. Souther is an employee of the Armo Drainage and Metal Products Co.

Library Remodeling Job near Completion

Work on the revamped entrance at the Carnegie Public Library, 127 S. North St., is moving rapidly toward completion, according to Mrs. P. M. Cook, librarian.

No definite completion date has been set, but "there isn't too much more to be done."

Originally constructed with an outside stairway to a main entrance on the second floor, the building has been remodeled to put the main entrance at sidewalk level. A vestibule beneath the old entrance will open into a down stairs room and also into a stairway to the main floor.

Plans have not been formulated or approved yet, but one idea is to make the downstairs area into a children's room.

The new vestibule and the stairway are lined with tile. The stairs are of brick.

Railings and light fixtures are yet to be installed and painting must be done before the work is completed, Mrs. Cook said.

Patrons still are required to use a door at the rear of the building. F. S. Cupp Construction Co. is the contractor.

32 Fayette County Farm Families To Entertain Visiting Plowmen

Thirty-two Fayette County Farm Bureau families will entertain approximately 65 competitors, team managers and officials of the World Plowing Contest when they visit Washington C. H. next Sunday on their way from Cincinnati to Columbus.

"We just had to cut it off at 32," Frank Alexander of the Farm Bureau office said. "With no difficulty at all we could entertain another group just as large. Our phone rang off the wall when it was learned that we would serve Sunday dinner for these folks."

"Just about everyone called,"

Appeal Being Filed In Death Sentence

COLUMBUS — Robert V. Morhaus has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from his death sentence for the robbery-slitting of Mrs. Leona McCrocklin in her home in Cincinnati, on June 3, 1956.

Morhaus, in Ohio Penitentiary under an indefinite stay of execution, claimed the state failed to show premeditation in the fatal beating that netted him $15.

Woman Taking Driving Test Injures Bystander

CLEVELAND — A woman taking a driver's license test at the State Highway Patrol driver's examination school lost control of her car Monday and pinned a woman bystander against a wall. Mrs. Ida Mae Peake, 44, of Cleveland, who had taken her son to the station for a driver's test, was in fair condition in Fairview Park Hospital with internal injuries and possible fractured ribs.

Alexander said, "and asked if they could have some of these plowmen in their homes next Sunday."

Lack of interpreters caused the big hitch in not being able to send the visitors to more homes. Many of the guests speak English in addition to their native languages, but some do not. Ohio State University is providing interpreters where possible but the university just wasn't able to provide one for each guest.

THE GROUP will arrive in Washington C. H. at noon Sunday by bus. They will stop at the Fairground, be picked up there by the families with whom they will have dinner, and return to the Fairground by 3 p. m. It is hoped that there will be time to show the guests over the farms which they visit.

The entire group will leave the Fairground by bus for Columbus. They will be housed at the Ohio State Fairground and, later in the week, they will go to a northern Ohio county fair and visit some of the rubber making facilities in Akron.

THOSE FAMILIES which will entertain guests Sunday are:

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Fannin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilt, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dorn, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ancil Creamer, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sollars, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sollars, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sollars, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grace, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Redd, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Slager, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wilt, Mr. and Mrs. William

Fayette County Officers To Help At Plow Matches

Adams County Sheriff Eugene Fulton is finding himself in quite a hole this week. He figures the traffic is going to be pretty rough down around Peebles with the World Conservation Exposition and Plowing Contests going on.

So Fulton issued an "invitation" to all Ohio sheriffs, inviting them to visit him during the big show. This, however, was like one of those "Bring your own food" picnics; Fulton's invitation said, in effect: "Be prepared to work, I'll need all the traffic assistance I can get."

Fayette County Sheriff Orland Hays is accepting the challenge, "they would sure give us help if we were hosts to such an affair."

One Fayette County car will make the trip Wednesday. Deputy Sheriffs Don Thompson and Charles Hays and Washington C. H. Patrolman Rodman Scott will make the trip. Sheriff Hays will go to Peebles Thursday but he doesn't yet know who will accompany him.

Mrs. George Worrell Is Acting Manager

Mrs. George Worrell will be acting manager of the Fayette County Welfare Department until the manager, Mrs. Warner Straley, returns to the office.

Mrs. Straley is in Memorial Hospital here where she underwent surgery two weeks ago. She said Tuesday that although she is "doing very well," it may be some time after she is released from the hospital before she returns to her desk in the court house.

Mrs. Straley commented that Mrs. Worrell has been her assistant for "a long time" and added that "she is thoroughly familiar with the work."

Mrs. Straley has a telephone in her hospital room and has been keeping in touch with the office, she said.

Wee Pep Talk To Milwaukee Brings Results

Brave Manager Haney's Chat Is Followed by 5-1 Win by Leaders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What was it Manager Fred Haney said in his "wee bit of a pep talk" with the Milwaukee Braves?

It didn't last long, just about three minutes before Monday night's game with Philadelphia. Haney later said he mentioned that a 2½-game lead was nothing to get all choked up about. In fact, it was a real surprise what with five regulars injured and out of the lineup at one time this season. He didn't mention, apparently, that the lead was 8½ just 12 days before.

"Now we're through with all that," Haney said he said, "and all we have to do is go out and swing those bats."

A nice little speech, but a bit out of character for Haney.

"How much of a so-and-so salary cut can YOU so-and-so afford?" would be more like it.

Whatever Haney said, it worked. The Braves burst loose for 14 hits and breezed to a 5-1 victory over the Phillies that ended a losing streak at three games and padded their National League lead to three games over idle St. Louis. It was their fourth victory in 12 games.

Brooklyn's third-place Dodgers were a somewhat bedraggled bunch of "contenders" after Monday night's 3-2 defeat in 10 innings at Cincinnati.

The American League race ended put. The first-place New York Yankees were idle and Chicago's second-place White Sox were rained out in their last scheduled appearance at Washington this season.

The Braves got back in business behind Bob Buhl. The black-browed right hander won his eighth in a row for a 17-6 record with his first complete game in four tries since Aug. 9.

Buhl permitted eight hits, but the Braves tagged southpaw Harvey Haddix for eight and a 4-0 lead within five frames. Del Rice cracked his eighth home run and double for two runs, and Johnny Logan was 3-for-4.

Buhl was making his second start since being sidelined Aug. 18 with a sore shoulder.

The Dodgers, who had taken two of three at Milwaukee before losing the two-game series at Cincinnati, were done in by Joe Taylor, who drove in all three Redleg runs with two homers, and a bases-loaded walk from right-handed reliever Ed Roebuck in the 10th. The Brooks intentionally walked pinch hitter Moky Burgess, a left-hander, to load the bases for Taylor.

Johnny Klippstein, 7-11, was the winner. Southpaw Johnny Podres (12-8) was the loser.

Cincinnati officially fell out of the race with Milwaukee's victory, while the Braves' magic number over Brooklyn was trimmed to "4."

No other games were scheduled in the NL. The only other AL game scheduled, Cleveland at Baltimore, also was rained out. It was cancelled since it was no bearing on the pennant.

The Braves and Cards each have 11 games remaining. Milwaukee's magic number is "9"—any combination of Milwaukee victories and Cardinal defeats totaling nine and it's bing in beer-land.

The Yankees lead by 5½ with 10 to play. The White Sox have 13 to play, counting the rainout. Any combination of Yankee victories and Sox defeats totaling seven and it's all over.

Youthful Catcher Signed by Redlegs

CINCINNATI (P)—The Cincinnati Redlegs Monday signed 18-year-old catcher Jim Lang of Cincinnati to a contract with their Visalia farm club of the Class C California League.

Lang, who starred with Cincinnati Woodward High School's base ball team for three years, has compiled a .397 batting average this summer in a Cincinnati semi-pro league. He is a righthander.

three big question marks on it. One is at end and Coach Domenico declined to even hint at who will hold it down.

Another is at quarterback. Although Domenico rates Chuck Hire as the No. 1 field general and ball-handler, he said it is likely that John Campbell, who has been handicapped by an achy leg, probably will play quite a bit of the game.

Campbell, a sophomore, has assets—he weighs around 180 pounds and is considered the team's top passer. To counter - balance these, Hire, 150 pound junior, is cool under fire and has had enough experience to have won his letter each year.

The other question mark hangs right over the middle of the line. The spot that was filled by Dick Welsh in the opening game at Linden. Welsh came out of that game with a bad ankle and Coach Domenico said it was doubtful whether the regular 180 - pound senior center would even be in uniform against Xenia.

If he is not, who will take over the important spot? Domenico would not give so much as a hint; he said, I honestly don't know yet.

So, the probable WHS starting team in Friday night's home opener is:

Ends—Jack Wilson, 155 lbs., junior, and ? ? ? ?

Tackles—Ron Carter, 205 lbs., sophomore, and Jack Anders, 190 lbs., senior Guards—Jim Wilson, 155 lbs., senior and co-captain, and Jack Hamilton, 150 lbs., junior.

Center—? ? ? ?

Halfbacks—Kenny Evans, 145 lbs., senior, and Roger McLean, 165 lbs., senior and co-captain.

Fullback—Gary Stoddard, 175 lbs., junior.

Quarterback—Chuck Hire, 150 lbs., junior.

THE BUCANEERS, who lost their first game last Saturday night to Hamilton Catholic, 19 - 13, after having played two scoreless ties against Fairmont and Miamisburg in a Miami Valley League preview, have a couple of good runners in Bernard Hutson and Jim Sullivan.

Tom Neeld, the quarterback has a good arm for the Xenia air attack. End Dick Harbin has been his favorite target. Neeld also runs the ball occasionally, usually arounds the ends.

By and large, indications are that the Lions will have to put up a determined defense to stop that fast and versatile backfield.

Xenia's probably starting lineup is:

Ends—Don Anderson, 175 lbs., senior, and Dick Harbin, 170 lbs., senior.

Tackles—Bob Hall, 209 lbs., sophomore, and John Loudon, 185 lbs., senior.

Guards—Vernon West, 182 lbs., senior, and Ted Lane, 160 lbs., senior.

Center—Doug Lowe, 190 lbs., junior.

Halfbacks—Bernard Hutson, 164 lbs., junior, and Jim Sullivan, 140 lbs., senior.

Fullback—Bob Hagler, 170 lbs., senior.

Quarterback—Tom Neeld, 160 lbs., senior.

With eight seniors among the 11 probable starters, it is obvious that the Buccaneers will have experience on their side. Two of the other three are juniors and the other is a sophomore, the heaviest boy on the team.

By comparison, only four of the Lions are seniors, four are juniors, one a sophomore and two are question marks.

Los Angeles Makes Offer

Official Deal OK'd To Take Dodgers West

LOS ANGELES (P)—The man who drafted this city's first firm offer to lure the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles says:

"The proposal is a splendid opportunity for Walter O'Malley and the Dodgers. It is also a splendid opportunity for Los Angeles to acquire major league baseball."

Harold C. McClellan, Los Angeles' delegate to the court of O'Malley, said he is confident the Dodger president will accept the proposal. It was passed 12-3 Monday during a stormy, five-hour session of the City Council.

During the discussion, Mayor Norris Poulson—who last May announced that the Dodgers were as good as warming up in Los Angeles—dramatically told the councilmen: "This is our hour of decision...If we don't move we're dead...Are we going to be a bush league town?...You've lost your guts if you table this action."

McClellan told The Associated Press two major hurdles still must be cleared:

The Dodgers, of course, must accept the offer.

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors must agree to develop more than two million dollars in roads adjacent to the proposed site for the Dodgers in Chavez Ravine.

The supervisors, with three of the necessary five votes already pledged, were expected to vote the necessary road funds today.

Then, McClellan said, the proposal will be sent officially to O'Malley, who so far has issued only a terse "no comment."

Basically the offer is this: In exchange, the Dodgers would give the city Wrigley Field.

The city would spend no more than two million dollars to level the proposed Chavez Ravine site.

The Dodgers would construct $500,000 worth of public recreational facilities on 40 of the 300 acres. The club would spend $60,000 a year to maintain the facilities for 20 years, at the end of which time the 40-acre parcel would belong to the Dodgers.

Milwaukee Near Attendance Mark

MILWAUKEE (P)—The Braves, attendance champions of the major leagues since they moved to Milwaukee from Boston in 1953, need only 27,653 paid admissions in tonight's game with New York to go over the two million mark for the fourth straight season.

If they don't reach the coveted turnstile total tonight they are sure to do so Wednesday night when the Giants also will provide the opposition.

Counting Monday night's turnout of 29,929 for their game with the Phillies, the Braves have drawn 1,972,345 paid admissions for 65 home dates. In 1954, they set a National League record of 2,131,388.

OSU Pole Vaulter Wins In International Test

VIENNA, Austria (P)—Jerry Welbourn, former Ohio State pole vaulter, and Parry O'Brien, Olympic shotput champion from California, won their events in an international track and field meet in Romania Monday. Welbourn vaulted 14 feet, 1.29 inches and O'Brien put the shot 60 feet, 10.33 inches.

Trotting Filly Mark Recorded at Delaware

DELAWARE (P)—A world's record for 3-year-old trotting fillies was established here Monday by Hoot Song, owned by Two Gait Farm of Carmel, Ind.

Hoot Song won the $9,305 Filly stake at the Delaware Fair here in 2:03.2 and 2:03.3 for a total time of 4:07. It bettered by one second the previous two-heat record set by Egyptian Princess at Goshen, N. Y., a year ago.

Los Angeles Makes Offer

Official Deal OK'd To Take Dodgers West

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The man who drafted this city's first firm offer to lure the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles says:

"The proposal is a splendid opportunity for Walter O'Malley and the Dodgers. It is also a splendid opportunity for Los Angeles to acquire major league baseball."

Harold C. McClellan, Los Angeles' delegate to the court of O'Malley, said he is confident the Dodgers president will accept the proposal. It was passed 12-3 Monday during a stormy, five-hour session of the City Council.

During the discussion, Mayor Norris Poulson—who last May announced that the Dodgers were as good as warming up in Los Angeles—dramatically told the councilmen: "This is our hour of decision...If we don't move we're dead...Are we going to be a bush league town?...You've lost your guts if you table this action."

McClellan told The Associated Press two major hurdles still must be cleared:

The Dodgers, of course, must accept the offer.

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors must agree to develop more than two million dollars in roads adjacent to the proposed site for the Dodgers in Chavez Ravine.

The supervisors, with three of the necessary five votes already pledged, were expected to vote the necessary road funds today.

Then, McClellan said, the proposal will be sent officially to O'Malley, who so far has issued only a terse "no comment."

Basically the offer is this: In exchange, the Dodgers would give the city Wrigley Field.

The city would spend no more than two million dollars to level the proposed Chavez Ravine site.

The Dodgers would construct $500,000 worth of public recreational facilities on 40 of the 300 acres. The club would spend $60,000 a year to maintain the facilities for 20 years, at the end of which time the 40-acre parcel would belong to the Dodgers.

Nothing, he said, went right. Players cut in the wrong direction or ran into one another. Not only did the passes fail to connect, generally, he said, but for the most part they never even got out of the backfield.

By and large, indications are that the Lions will have to put up a determined defense to stop that fast and versatile backfield.

Xenia's probably starting lineup

LINE	1st	2nd	3rd	T
Ends—Don Anderson, 175 lbs., senior, and Dick Harbin, 170 lbs., senior;
Tackles—Bob Hall, 209 lbs., sophomore, and John Loudon, 185 lbs., senior;
Guards—Vernon West, 182 lbs., senior, and Ted Lane, 160 lbs., senior;
Center—Doug Lowe, 190 lbs., junior.
Halfbacks—Bernard Hutson, 164 lbs., junior, and Jim Sullivan, 140 lbs., senior;
Fullback—Bob Hagler, 170 lbs., senior.
Quarterback—Tom Neeld, 160 lbs., senior.

With eight seniors among the 11 probable starters, it is obvious that the Buccaneers will have experience on their side. Two of the other three are juniors and the other is a sophomore, the heaviest boy on the team.

By comparison, only four of the Lions are seniors, four are juniors, one a sophomore and two are question marks.

Batavia-Owned Pacer Cops Lebanon Feature

LEBANON (AP)—Anthony's Dream, a 4-year-old black horse of modest reputation, owned by Clarence Reynolds of Batavia, staged a stretch surge that carried him from sixth place to victory in the featured pace at Lebanon Raceway Monday night.

A crowd of 1,476 wagered $39, 308 through the mutual wagers.

Counting Monday night's turnout of 20,929 for their game with the Phillies, the Braves have drawn 1,972,345 paid admissions for 65 home dates. In 1954, they set a National League record of 2,131,388.

OSU Pole Vaulter Wins In International Test

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Jerry Welbourn, former Ohio State pole vaulter, and Parry O'Brien, Olympic shotput champion from California, won their events in an international track and field meet in Romania Monday. Welbourn vaulted 14 feet, 129 inches and O'Brien put the shot 60 feet, 10.33 inches.

Trotting Filly Mark Recorded at Delaware

DELAWARE (AP)—A world's record for 3-year-old trotting fillies was established here Monday by Hoot Song, owned by Two Gait Farm of Carmel, Ind.

Hoot Song won the $9,305 Filly stake at the Delaware Fair here in 2:03.2 and 2:03.3 for a total time of 4:07. It bettered by one second the previous two-heat record set by Egyptian Princess at Goshen, N. Y. a year ago.

Legion Studies Vets Benefits

Non-Service Ailments Said of Top Import

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The American Legion today heard a report that "the nation's feelings of obligation and gratitude toward veterans seems to have lessened to a noticeable degree."

The report came from Harvey V. Higley, administrator of veterans affairs, as the Legion turned from parading to the opening session of its 39th annual convention.

Higley called in a prepared address for establishment of an official or legislative policy on the care of sick and disabled non-service-connected veterans — those whose disabilities were not incurred in military service.

"If the policy shall be not to take care of the non-service-connected, this should be frankly stated," he said, "so that others — states, counties and cities — may take up the load."

"For remember, we are not talking about cases. We are talking about sick men who served their country when it was in sore distress — men who cannot afford to pay for hospital care."

Higley said that at present all service-connected cases are cared for immediately, but we do have 22,000 non-service-connected veterans on our waiting list, of whom 17,000 are suffering from mental illness.

He said Congress never has declared the Veterans Administration should hospitalize the non-service-connected, but rather that they can be hospitalized if they cannot pay and if the VA has beds available.

"So long as a definite policy is lacking," said Higley, "requests for new and additional beds will receive little if any consideration."

Legion Studies Vets Benefits

Non-Service Ailments Said of Top Import

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—The American Legion today heard a report that "the nation's feelings of obligation and gratitude toward veterans seems to have lessened to a noticeable degree."

The report came from Harvey
V. Higley, administrator of veterans affairs, as the Legion turned from parading to the opening session of its 39th annual convention.

Higley called in a prepared address for establishment of an official or legislative policy on the care of sick and disabled non-service-connected veterans — those whose disabilities were not incurred in military service.

"If the policy shall be not to take care of the non-service-connected, this should be frankly stated," he said, "so that others —states, counties and cities—may take up the load.

"For remember, we are not talking about cases. We are talking about sick men who served their country when it was in sore distress — men who cannot afford to pay for hospital care.

"The question 'Whose problem is this?' should be answered."

Higley said that at present all service-connected cases are cared for immediately, but we do have 22,000 non-service-connected veterans on our waiting list, of whom 17,000 are suffering from mental illness."

He said Congress never has declared the Veterans Administration should hospitalize the non-service-connected, but rather that they can be hospitalized if they cannot pay and if the VA has beds available.

"So long as a definite policy is lacking," said Higley, "requests for new and additional beds will receive little if any consideration."

MOTHER DIES TO SAVE HER SON

MRS. OLIVETTE HAVEN (left), of Quincy, Mass., made the ultimate sacrifice when saving the life of her son, John (right), shown with his dog. The boy got into difficulties while swimming and his mother went in to his rescue. She got him to a raft but was pushed under by his weight as she tried to hoist him up. The heroic Mrs. Haven never came back to the surface. (International Soundphoto)

Scandal Magazine's Fate Being Pondered by Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury buckles down today to the task of sifting a verdict from an avalanche of scandal-saturated testimony in the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial.

The case went to the jury late Monday. Start of deliberations was put over until today.

The question before the six men and six women of the jury is:

Did Confidential and Whisper magazines, Publisher's Distributing Corp., Hollywood Research
Corp. and Fred and Marjorie Meade conspire to commit criminal libel and to publish lewd and obscene material?

If the jury finds them guilty, the penalty could range up to five years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

The jurors' deliberations will be confined to the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. They will spend the rest of their time relaxing in a downtown hotel.

For the last six weeks they have heard the prosecution attempt to prove that the defendants conspired to dredge up unfounded scandal about celebrities and publish it to make a fortune from magazine sales. And they have heard the defense contend that the stories were true and were intended to expose the illicit conduct of "false idols."

Superior Judge Herbert V.
Walker spent an hour instructing the jurors on the laws of criminal libel and obscenity before turning the case over to them.

"Truth alone is not a defense against criminal libel," he said.
"There must be good motives and a justifiable purpose. Libel is a malicious defamation. Without a justifiable motive, the law presumes malice."

"But if an article is true and is published with good motives, the defendant is entitled to acquittal."

He added that making money could not be a justifiable motive.
Judge Walker gave the jurors several definitions of obscenity and told them: "The fact that an article is humorous does not affect its obscenity in any degree."

The defense had maintained that Confidential and Whisper magazine stories were humorous and that if their effect was to evoke a chuckle they could not be obscene.

The trial reached its climax
Sept. 3 with appearance of actress Maureen O'Hara and singer
Dorothy Dandridge as prosecution witnesses. They testified that Confidential stories about their alleged love trysts were lies.

These were the only big names to appear from what had been billed in pretrial statements as an all-star cast of movie star witnesses.

Herschel Taylor New President Of FOP Lodge

New Organization
Ready To Seek 50
Associate Members

Police Patrolman Herschel Taylor, 31, was elected president of the newly-organized Fraternal Order of Police Lodge No. 99 at a meeting in the City Council chamber Monday night.

Taylor will head a slate of officers that will guide the group's 21 members and a hoped-for 50 associate members through their first year together.

State Highway Patrolman R. R. Shelton was elected vice president

HERSCHEL TAYLOR

Police Sgt. Walter Marshall secretary, and Sheriff Orlan Hays, treasurer.

Other officers are Highway Patrolman Robert Hackemeyer, conductor; Police Sgt. Virgil Harris, inner and outer guard; Highway Patrolman Dwight Holloway, three-year trustee; Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson, two-year trustee; Police Patrolman Robert Williams, one-year trustee; and Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays, chaplain.

FIRST GOAL of the organization, as outlined at the meeting, will be a drive to build a core of associate members interested in furthering the organization's programs.

Associate membership is open to part-time law officers, civic and business leaders and public officials, subject of majority vote of the 21 regular members.

Taylor said he is setting a goal of "at least 50" members at the start.

Primary purpose of the non-profit organization, as set down in the national charter, is the "advancement and protection of police and the promotion and improvement of law enforcement." Emphasis is on that it is not a union, Taylor described it rather as "a gathering of the clan."

FURTHERING the "promotion and improvement of law enforcement," many lodges operate youth recreation programs, such as little league and youth football organizations. Taylor said he would like to see the local lodge get into work of that sort "as soon as we get settled."

Members of the local lodge are also members of the state and national lodges.

Regular meeting date will be second Monday of each month, but the president said a special meeting may be held before the first Monday in October to help get the associate membership campaign moving.

Other charter members, besides the officers listed above, are Police Chief D. Vaiden Long, Capt. Charles Foster, Patrolmen Rodman Scott, Robert Massie, Lang Laytard, Elmer Kelley, Charles Long and Simon White, Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Mickle, Jeffersonville Police Chief Lester Estle and New Holland Police Chief Wilbur Frazier.

Friends of the Land Hold Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of the Friends of the Land organization and a tour of the Muskingum Conservancy District, bringing together people from all over the United States was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The meeting attempted to demonstrate the foremost importance of the agricultural and conservancy fields.

Highlights of the meeting and tour were the annual banquet at the Mansfield Leland Hotel in Mansfield, where U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche was guest speaker; and visits and programs at Pleasant Hill Reservoir, Mohican Forest Park, Malabar Farms, Mohawk Dam, Blubaugh Farm, Coshocton Hydrologic Station and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at the Wooster Dillon Dam site.

Saturday night, after a session at Kingwood Center in Mansfield, the entire party was entertained for buffet dinner on the 60-acre lawn of Ralph and Herbert Cobey's at Galion. The final dinner was held at Healey's Inn near Zanesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Penn and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Kelley of Washington C. H. were members of the party.

Navy Reserve Officer Exams Slated Dec. 14

Vice Admiral James A. Holloway Jr., chief of naval personnel, has announced that the 12th annual national competitive examinations for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps will be given to interested high school seniors and graduates Dec. 14. A preliminary form is now available and must be received before Nov. 16, he added.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program furnishes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit.

All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises as a midshipman.

After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far-flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in naval aviation.

HIGH SCHOOL seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1958.

From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy recruiting stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Fayette County Safer during Last 6 Months

Fayette County was a much safer place to drive during the first six months of 1957 than it has been for the similar period during the past three years, according to a survey published by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

One fatality occurred in the county during the first six months this year, as against three fatalities during the same period in 1956 and four fatalities during the same period of 1955. The total number of accidents also was reduced with 176 being recorded for the first half of 1957 as compared with 208 and 207 for the same period of 1956 and 1955, respectively.

In two categories, however, increases were noted. Three more accidents involved injuries this first half year than last year—65 against 62. Property damage was also greater for the period this year—$72,790 against $61,676. Property damage during the first half of 1955 totaled $91,585.

Significant decreases were also evident in the number of injuries. The total during the first half of 1957 was 89. For the same period last year the total was 106, and for 1955, 146. Pedestrian injuries, also, were fewer; two injuries during the first half of this year, three injuries during the same time last year, and five injuries during the corresponding period of 1955.

First of Smaller Test Holes Drilled in County by Kewanee

First of a number of test holes to be drilled by the Central Exploration Co. of Wichita, Kas., for the Kewanee Oil Co. in Fayette and adjoining counties was drilled Tuesday morning on the W. A. (Red) Melvin farm on the Creek Rd.

These small holes were drilled in making geophysical tests by exploding dynamite in the holes and recording the vibrations to establish character of formation deep below the surface.

For the first time in this part of Ohio the rotary drill outfit, mounted on a large truck, disposes of the cuttings by compressed air. As the drill goes down the cuttings are forced out the top and into a pipe which carries them some 10 feet from the top of the hole.

The previous geophysical tests were made by drilling holes with driller's mud; this was similar to the operations used in the deep well drilling.

IN THE FIRST hole drilled on the Melvin farm—which is slightly over a mile south of where the deep test well was drilled on the Edwards Hopkins farm—bedrock, or the Niagara limestone, was struck at only eight feet. In the second hole, drilled 100 feet from the first hole, limestone was encountered at 10 feet. Usually the limestone is 60 feet below the surface in that area.

There are approximately a dozen men in the crew operating the outfit. It includes engineers who establish elevations so the tests may be complete.

Wires connected with posts in the ground near the well are laid in various directions, and instruments are attached for recording results when the dynamite, usually only small charges, is detonated.

The drilling crew expects to be in this area for many weeks and perhaps several months carrying on the geophysical tests.
